Corruption? What Else?
Money 7½ Per Cent.
The Smallest Mouse.
He Opened the Door.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(Copyright, 1928.)

THE Democratic keynote is "Republican corruption, Secretary Fall, Mr. Sinclair, oil and oil spots."

Plenty of Republican corruption, but Democrats must find something better than that. Republicans will reply, "Old stuff. What have Fall, Sinclair and Doheny to do with Herbert Hoover? As well try to fasten Bill Tweed of the Democratic Party to Woodrow Wilson."

THE people know there is corruption. To their sorrow, they take much of it for granted. They hear about rotten politicians in Democratic New York grafting in every direction. They hear about other rotten politicians in Republican Washington, D. C., grafting as diligently as they know how, with an occasional Cabinet officer selling government property to the highest bidder.

BUT all that doesn't decide a national election. The voters, mechanics, farmers, business men, will ask, "WHAT HAVE YOU TO OFFER? Tell us what YOU propose to do?"

HARD to keep a squirrel on the ground; hard to keep Wall Street discouraged. Big men that control money yesterday put "call money," with which poor stock gamblers gamble, up to 7½.

In spite of that prices wouldn't go down. Some that sold short, thinning the amount "to leave the corpse" had arrived, were busy "covering."

Do what you please, but don't sell this country short It's too dangerous.

MR. L. BUCK, mighty hunter before the Lord, brings from Africa a blue wildcat, first ever seen by white man, a big gorilla, specimens of the Gherzi and Gebrazzi monkey tribes, and a pigmy mouse as small as a bee.

THE question arises, were all these interesting creatures in the Garden of Eden, with the whale, dinosaur, flying lizard, ornithorinchus, kangaroo, giraffe and hoot owl? Or did they come gradually? If they were all there, which interested Cain and Abel most? Probably the pigmy mouse, although the boys had no pockets in which to hide it.

A PICTURESQUE life ended in Chicago, when "Big Tim" Murphy answered the doorbell.

Murphy was a labor leader, a successful "racketeer," owner one of the finest gambling houses in Chicago—had been tried twice for murder, jailed for a $122,000 mail robbery. The shooting is supposed to have avenged one of the murders for which he was tried, but not convicted.

When Chicago gangland thinks a man ought to die, he dies.

JUDGE PROSKAUER, learned American jurist of Jewish birth, has been preparing in New York a platform for Democrats at Houston.

Since Moses came down the mountain with Commandments all written out the Jewish race has offered many important contributions to humanity.

A Jewish scholar is said to have written the Koran for Mohammed, who probably couldn't read or write. Mohammed's followers didn't know it.

EARNEST Britishers don't like stabilization of the French franc. In 1915 and 1916, they bought a French war loan of 50,000,000 pounds sterling. It is worth less than 10,000,000 pounds today with the franc stabilized, a loss of $200,000,000.

Still it is worth ten million pounds, which is more than you can say for some of our foreign loans.

THE Democratic party is expected to "stress prohibition enforcement and ignore modification." What it really wants is drastic modification, not much enforcement. That's the popular thing. But you can't always say what you think.

A CANDIDATE for public school teacher, in an old-fashioned district, divided in its opinion as to the earth rotundity, was asked whether he taught that the earth was round or flat. The careful teacher replied, "Teach both round and flat." Careful Democrats will teach both wet and dry. The Republicans, perhaps wiser, decided to teach dry, and act wet.

GIRL FLIER NEAR DEATH IN CRASH

4 PERILED BY BOMB LAID TO MAFIA

A bomb explosion, attributed to the Black Hand, rocked Elizabeth early today, endangered the lives of a sleeping family of four, wrecked one building and shattered windows for a block. Damage is placed at $25,000.

The bomb was set off shortly after 3 o'clock on the doorstep of Richard Kaeslin's barber shop in the Hunt Building, a two-story brick and frame, shattering the front and tearing a hole in the ceiling, within two feet of where Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hampson were sleeping on the second floor. Two children, Jean, 6, and Jack, 5, were asleep in an adjoining room. Mrs. Hampson suffered from shock.

Miners' relief headquarters adjoining the barber shop on one side, and Al Kramer's butcher shop on the other, were badly damaged. Windows were broken in other nearby buildings, including the parsonage of the Rev. W. W. McKinney, pastor of the Presbyterian Church; Moose Hall and Odd Fellows Hall and the accessory shop and living quarters of George W. Bennett, Jr. across the street from the scene of the blast.

Bennett was hurled from his bed against the wall on the opposite side of the room suffering shock and contusions.

Kaeslin, who lives three doors away, had left his shop only an hour before the explosion. He was unable to throw any light on the bombing.

The explosion was the third in Elizabeth in the last six months.

KIDNAPED PGH. GIRL SOUGHT IN CHICAGO

International News Service.

CHICAGO, June 28. — Detective Bureau squads rushed into all parts of Chicago today in a search for pretty Norma Morman, 20, kidnaped from in front of her home at 3407 Bates street, Pittsburgh, May 15.

The girl is believed to be in the custody of George R. Murray, alias Thomas Brady, alias George Kearns.

From the girl's mother Chicago and Pittsburgh police learned that she disappeared shortly after a rented automobile obtained by Murray drove in front of the Morman home. Her mother gazed from the window and observed the girl being dragged into a machine said to have been hired by Murray.

Gasoline station attendants between Chicago and Pittsburgh reported that a girl answering the description of Norma was seen unconscious in an automobile being driven towards Chicago by a man who looked like Murray.

Reed Put in Nomination

SAM HOUSTON HALL, HOUSTON, June 28.—(AP.)—The fifth session of the Democratic national convention adjourned at 12:37 p. m. today until 3 p. m. (5 p. m. Pittsburgh time), with one or two nominating speeches yet to be heard.

It was expected the platform would not be rady for submission to the convention until late this afternoon or tonight.

CONVENTION HALL, HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—The name of Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, was placed in nomination before the Democratic National Convention today by Charles M. Howell, his lifelong friend and associate from Kansas City, Mo.

Prisoner!

NORMA MORMAN

Kidnaped in an auto from her Bates street home six weeks ago, Norma Morman, 20, is being held captive in Chicago, authorities of that city believe. They hope to apprehend soon the man suspected of kidnaping her.

It went to the convention as a forlorn hope, for Reed faced certain defeat. The Smith wave was at its peak, and Smith managers were suggesting the convention might clean up tonight, naming the New York governor as 1928 Presidential nominee and naming also a running mate—probably Senator Joseph Robinson, of Arkansas.

RUM COMPROMISE

The platform committee meantime was finishing its work of approving the formulating committee's draft. This draft contained a dry plank indorsing enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and an anti-corruption plank, and a strong plank for farm relief. There was prospect that when the platform came to the floor, a minority report would come, too, thereby precipitating a Southern row over the dry plank, as Gov. Dan Moody, of Texas, and other extreme dys want a stiffer dry doctrine.

Strong pressure has been brought on Reed to quit the race, but the old fighter from Missouri, bitter over his situation, had decreed his name should go to the convention.

Chairman Robinson had praised the delegates this forenoon for

CAP DE LA MADELEINE, Quebec, June 28.—(AP.) — Miss Thea Rasche, German girl flier who hopes to make a non-stop flight to Berlin, and her crew escaped uninjured when her monoplane North Star crashed through some bushes on an attempted take-off for a test flight today.

Ulrich Koenemann, pilot, and Mechanic Zebora were in the plane with Miss Rasche. The latter was at the controls. The ship was not seriously damaged.

Owing to the softness of the field the plane refused to leave the ground and taxied to the end of the field and plughed through the bushes. A full load of 400 gallons of gasoline was carried but was dumped by Koenemann when the plane approached the edge of the field.

BRITON HOPS FOR U. S.

International News Service.

LONDON, June 28.—Capt. Frank T. Courtney, British airman, who hopped off at Lisbon this morning at 8 o'clock to fly to the Azores on the first leg of a trans-Atlantic flight, sent the following radiogram from his plane:

"Five hours out from Lisbon. Both engines running well. Crew cheerful. Everything is o. k."

Courtney, in a Dornier whale seaplane, is accompanied by E. B. Hosmer, son of a Canadian millionaire; Mechanician Fred Pierce, and Radio Operator H. W. Gilmour.

Capt. Courtney said he expected to arrive at Horta, the Azores, early this evening, to take off as soon as he could after refueling and

Ward "Boss" Fined

Harmony prevailed at the trial of Owen McManus, Republican chairman of the Second Ward, in Penn Avenue Police Court today on a suspicious person charge preferred by police following an alleged attack upon Inspector Joseph Elsner last midnight in front of the police station.

Everybody was happy. Elsner smilingly testified that he was attacked by McManus when he brought his machine to a stop in front of the station. Magistrate W. J. Soost snickered as he asked McManus what he had to say. McManus jocularly replied, "nothing."

All Bond Items Win by 2 to 1, Except 2

OPPOSITION STIFFER TO BUILDING PROGRAM

A semi-official tabulation of the vote cast at last Tuesday's special peoples' $43,680,000 bond issue election, completed today, shows that the bond issue, with the exception of two questions, was authorized by a vote of more than 2 to 1. Nine districts of the 1,422 in the county still are missing.

The two questions, new county buildings and Tow Hall, although pulling substantial majorities, did not go over as the other five items by a 2 to 1 vote.

The City of McKeesport, strongly opposed to all items in the issue, defeated every one of the seven questions. The reason for this, it was stated that McKeesport was refused improvements totaling over $7,000,000. Clairton, also voted against the issue.

The tabulation including city, boroughs, townships and third-class cities with nine districts out of 1,422 missing gives:

MRS. MILLER MAY AID SMITH CAMPAIGN

By WILLIAM I. GRUNDISH,
Staff Correspondent.

HOUSTON, June 28.—Mrs. Carroll Miller, of Pittsburgh, sister of National Committeeman Joseph F. Guffey, who last night seconded the nomination of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, of New York, will be asked to stump the country on behalf of the Democratic nominee.

The decision to make an effort to enlist Mrs. Miller in the battalion of speakers that will swing around the circuit for the New York governor was made by the managers of his campaign last night after she had stopped a steady parade of men and women, tired of oratory, toward the exits.

ASSAILS SELFISH

Assailing the "little group of selfish men" who have been in control of the political destiny of Pennsylvania, urging the nomination of Gov. Smith as one who will release the people of America "from the oppression of unscrupulous wealth and the heavy mastery which it represents," Mrs. Miller repeated her triumph of four years ago when, in Madison Square Garden, she appealed to the delegates to forget religious bigotry and sectional selfishness.

Her arraignment of the Republican organization in Pennsylvania was punctuated time and again by applause. During most of the short time she was on the stand, the Klieg lights sputtered while the photographers balanced precariously on the railings and the movie men in the platforms erected above the audience took reel after reel. No doubt, Pittsburghers within a few days will be able to see Mrs. Miller making her address.

"I come from the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," she said, "proud of its historic past, but humiliated by its political present; Pennsylvania — founded by the liberal and gentle Quaker, William Penn; guided by the wise and skillful Franklin; immortalized by the Declaration of Independence; sanctified by the blood-stained footprints of the Continental Army at Valley Forge, and consecrated by the thousands of youths who fell under two flags at Gettysburg—and now notorious because of the corruption and power of its Republican machine."

ASSAILS MACHINE

The leaders of the Pennsylvania machine, said Mrs. Miller, referring by inference to the Mellons, "dictate and control the national candidates and policies of the Republican party" in such a way as to favor great corporations instead of average citizens.

Their policies, she went on, "have mortgaged the once prosperous farmer deep in his own unprofitable acres; have denied the laborer the right to organize; have controlled the starving miner by arrogant injunctions; have through threats held the wage earner and the small business man cowed and subservient and have made government an autocracy accountable to no one but a few Republican bosses."

Mrs. Miller was one of two women to second Smith's nomination. The other was former Gov. Nellie Ross of Wyoming.

Hartje in CupidRole Failure

Scott Hartje, against whom a divorce suit is pending at Atlantic City, tried his best to prevent divorce proceedings between another couple, he testified in court today.

"I'm not much in favor of divorces," said Hartje on the witness stand, "and I did my best to patch things up, but wasn't able."

Hartje testified in the hearing of Wallace F. Terry, of Center avenue, who sued Lilliam Terry for divorce on grounds of desertion. She is employed at present as a manicurist at the William Penn Hotel, Terry testified. Hartje formerly resided with the Terrys, he said.

"My wife became dissatisfied because I couldn't afford to keep her dressed in the height of fashion," Terry testified before Judge H. H. Rowand. "She said she was going to put me in hot water if I didn't give her $5,000, although she had $1,800 in the bank in her own name at the time."

The Terrys were married in 1918 and separated in 1922.

ZIONISTS ARE RIPPED BY HADASSAHS

Demands for reforms in the Zionist Organization of America, which were made yesterday at the opening session of the fourteenth annual convention of the Hadassah in the William Penn Hotel, were continued with vigor on the convention floor today. The differences between the two groups were emphasized by the reading of a message from Miss Henrietta Szold, honorary president of the Hadassah, who is in Jerusalem personally directing the Palestinian work for the women's organization.

Exception was taken by the Hadassah to the manner of allocating funds by the Zionist organization between actual work and the money used for administration. In her message, Miss Szold pointed out that women had entered a wider area of work and that they were members of the Zionist organization and one of their implied duties was the framing of Zionist policies. Without directly advising her members which course to pursue in the vexed question of splitting into two separate organizations, Miss Szold declared that "the Zionist ideal is larger than Palestine itself," and that "Zionist values cannot be created by any group when it holds itself aloof from universal Zionist fellowship."

Relief of a crisis in the educational affairs of Palestine through a contribution of $20,000 from its reserve fund stands out as one of the major achievements of the Junior Hadassah during the year, it was announced by Miss Laura Snyder, president of the junior organization, at today's convention session.

Throwing Cake Not Cruelty, Court Says

International News Service.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 28.—Mrs. Philip Fleschner, whose husband sought to divorce her, retaliated by testifying that he lay in bed and drank whisky through a rubber tube from a 20-gallon barrel. Fleschner denied the charge. It was only a five-gallon barrel, he said.

Fleschner, who is 55, had charged his wife, who is 50, with gross cruelty. He said she had thrown plates, silverware and a cake at him, prostrating him with nervous fear." Mrs. Fleschner denied throwing anything but the cake at him. "It is with a pain in my heart that I admit throwing the cake at him," she told the court.

The divorce suit was dismissed, the court holding that the charge of cruelty was not proven.

TEST ROME PLANE

International News Service.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 28.—The Bellanca Sesqui plane Roma, in which Chevalier Cesare Sabelli plans a non-stop flight to Rome, took off here at 8:20 a. m. today on what was announced as a 24-hour test flight.

The Roma started from the east end of the runway and left the ground after running about 1,200 feet. The take-off was described by observers as perfect. After leaving the ground, the plane flew due west in a straight line for about a mile before turning back toward the field.

According to previous announcements by Sabelli, the plane will remain aloft in the vicinity of this field for 24 hours to enable the crew—which, in addition to Chev. Sabelli comprises Roger O. Williams, co-pilot, Capt. Pierro Bonelli, navigator and Dr. L. M. Piculli, physician—to gather data on endurance flying for use on the Roma flight. It has been announced that the start for Rome will be made, weather permitting, about July 4.

REV. BORCHERS, 84, DIES

The Rev. Conrad Borchers, for 59 years a minister, died in his 85th year at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. T. Schiess, 627 Greendale avenue, Edgewood early today. He retired in January after having served for 10 years as pastor of the Evangelical Protestant Church of West End.

Born in Germany April 22, 1844, the Rev. Borchers came to Pittsburgh 21 years later. He was the oldest member of Oriental Lodge, 590, Free and Accepted Masons, and a member of the Pittsbuhgh Synod of the Reformed Church. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Schiess; three sons, Carl, Calvin and Edgar Borchers; eight grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Funeral services will be held in Trinity Reformed Church Friday night.

WARD "BOSS" FINED

He wanted the case decided upon Elsner's testimony and paid a $25 fine in consequence.

John Burke, 25, of 72 Twenty-sixth street, and Leonard Delp, 30, of 1917 Penn avenue, arrested with McManus, were discharged when McManus exonerated them of blame. More smiles came when Burke, a prize fighter, took exception to Elsner's remark that he had been "Dempsey's punching bag," and insisted he is a first class "boxer."

Who blackjacked McManus in the melee was not determined, nor was the cause of the brawl. Before the hearing, McManus said the fight started when he asked Elsner to "let up on" Joseph Pierce, 24, of 55 Twentieth street, and Martin Gallagher, 23, of 277 Spring way, who had been arrested for an alleged attack upon Patrolman William Kessler at Twentieth street and Penn avenue.

Elsner has been "hounding these boys," McManus declared, and said he had gone to the station to ask Elsner to release them. But McManus did not testify to this, content only to have Burke and Delp exonerated. After the hearing, McManus said he plans no further court action. "We don't do things that way out here," he declared. Pierce and Gallagher were fined $10 for disorderly conduct.

REED PUT IN NOMINATION

their patience and attention and had appealed indirectly for better order today than prevailed yesterday.

A demonstration of less than two minutes for Reed, with Missourians practically the only ones in it, preceded Howell's nominating speech. Some scattering groups joined in the cheering, but the demonstration, centered alone in the Missouri section, spoke volumes for the political situation here. Reed was finished; Smith was about to have his triumph registered by the convention.

ROBINSON SPEAKS UP

The session began at 10:35 a. m.—(12:35 Pittsburgh time) five minutes after the hour set. Senator Robinson, the permanent chairman and leading candidate for the vice presidency, apparently was anxious to get on with the convention business. When he called for order only about half the delegates had arrived and there still were great blank spaces in the spectators' bleachers along the sides and rear of the hall. There was so much confusion, with late arrivals struggling in by the hundreds, that even repeated orders by the chair to the sergeant-at-arms failed for a time to get the delegates into their seats and quiet.

The chairman did not wait for order but, while the hall still was rumbling with conversation, he presented the Rev. A. Frank Smith of the First Methodist Church of Houston who pronounced the invocation. The crowd stood and grew more silent.

Howell concluded his speech nominating Reed at 11:55, after having spoken for 35 minutes, and the Missouri delegation, with their state standard and a picture of their candidate, started a parade through the aisles. Florida joined in. The Reed parade was "dressed up" with American flags and a great canvas banner bearing the legend, "Win with Reed."

After one swing about the hall to the raucous din of the Missouri cow bells, Oklahoma's standard was taken into the procession by the Reed men of that state.

The other delegations, however, stood fast and smiled and joked with the perspiring marchers.

On the second swing around the big arena, a new banner made its appearance in the marching column:

"Turn the rascals out—Reed."

After 15 minutes there was no sign of a letup in the Reed demonstration, although it did not seem to be attracting many recruits. The Reed people, however, apparently were determined to keep it going and match the Smith show at least in point of duration of time.

For the first 10 minutes, the vast majority of the delegates stood on their chairs and watched the show but gradually they sat down and began fanning while Senator Reed's loyal friends continued to "whoop 'er up."

OVATION 20 MINUTES

No effort was made from the platform to halt the demonstration. Senator Robinson retired to the back and took a comfortable chair.

After 20 minutes the noise began to subside of its own accord, and Robinson returned to the gavel with an appeal for the convention to become orderly.

The Reed demonstration was over. It had at no time more than Missouri, Oklahoma, Florida, the alternate standard of Kansas and the Philippines' standard in the procession.

At that, it was a better demonstration than Senator Reed's dearest friends eight years ago anticipated that he would ever get in a Democratic national convention.

The roll call went on. When Nebraska was called, Eugene D. O'Sullivan, of Omaha, came forward and gave the convention the name of Ex-Senator Gilbert N. Hitchcock, who led the League of Nations fight for Woodrow Wilson in the Senate eight years ago.

After Hitchcock's name had been presented, the convention recessed until 3 p. m. (5 o'clock Pittsburgh time), when the platform is expected to be presented.

BOTH APPEAL; THIRD CASE DELAYED

Harry Frank and Meyer Letwin, found guilty as members of an arson ring last January, were sentenced to serve from 6 to 12 years in Western Penitentiary by Visiting Judge J. Frank Graff in Criminal Court today.

They are alleged to have attempted to fire the millinery shop of Carrie M. Deverts, 435 East Ohio street, July 31, 1927, in a plot to obtain insurance. Sentence of Sam Freedman and Simon Rosenthal, who pleaded guilty, was delayed by serious illness of their counsel, Attorney Rody P. Marshall.

Notice of immediate appeal to Superior Court was filed in behalf of Frank and Letwin, and both were released under bond pending the outcome.

HIT BY TRAIN, MAN DIES

Alexander Finnie, 60, of College street, East Liverpool, O., employed on a construction job near Carnegie, was fatally injured shortly before noon today when he was run down by the Wheeling Express on the Panhandle Railroad. He was placed on the train and brought to the Fourth Avenue Station where he died.

REED PUT UP AS DEMOCRACY'S CHAMPION

International News Service.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—James A. Reed is a great American, with an outstanding record of public achievement and he would make a great American president, Charles M. Howell, of Missouri, declared today in placing Reed's name before the Democratic National Convention as a candidate for the party's presidential nomination.

Against the advancing columns of a united Republican party, Howell said, "a human thunderbolt must be hurled and James A. Reed is that thunderbolt."

"Reed is made to order as a candidate for the presidency against Herbert Hoover," Howell asserted. "With their records, their ideals and their accomplishments put down side by side, and their real abilities and their true worth judged in the open court of public opinion—the greatest court on this earth—what chance would Hoover have against the greatest orator of the English-speaking race."

LAUDS RECORD

Howell described Reed's career, his record in Congress, his constant battling for Democratic principles, his defense of constitutional privileges and his life-long fight for democracy.

"For almost 18 years Missouri's candidate has played a conspicuous part in the deliberations of the United States Senate. During that time he has never dodged an issue or left doubt as to his position.

"If Reed had performed no other service to his country, the fight he has made for honest government would stand as his everlasting monument.

"He drove Newberry from office.

"It was the committee headed by Reed that exposed the crooked elections in Pennsylvania and Illinois, barring the doors of the Senate to Vare and Smith.

"During the war our great Senator supported our great President in every request for money, materials and men. By his eloquence he defeated in the Senate the measure providing for a war cabinet, which would have taken the command and direction of the war from the President."

HIS DRY STAND

On prohibition, Howell said Reed "believes that if any laws prove oppressive or unwise, the people, through their chosen representatives, have the right and power to change or modify them, but that until so changed or modified, they should be respected, obeyed and strictly enforced."

After praising Reed's career and declaring he would stand by the party nominee, Howell concluded with "and in the future when great questions press forward for solution and stupendous issues hang in the balance, if our country be assailed by enemies from without or attacked by foes from within, his voice will be raised in the defense of his party. In the defense of his country, and still above that, in the defense of the rights of man as long as that silver tongue can utter a golden word."

TRAFFIC DEAD OF 1927 REMEMBERED BY SHAFT

DEDICATED

Better Traffic Committee at Sixth and Webster avenues, strategic point in the route leading eastward from the city, has unveiled its Memorial Beacon, dedicated by Council President James F. Malone (above) to those killed in traffic accidents in 1927.

UNVEILED

This photograph was taken as the veil was dropped from the "marble" shaft. The inscription tells that in 1927 there were 176 traffic fatalities in Pittsburgh and reminds passers-by that already this year there have been 58 killed. Children in the ceremony represented the 176 victims.

FOR JUBILEE DAY

SEATS FREE

Here is the big ferris wheel at National Amusement Park where on July 3 all the boys and girls who attend The Sun-Tele Jubilee will have free rides. It is only one of 12 amusement attractions. All the tickets are being sent out today—tens of thousands of them! At the park there will be free bars of Reinhold's French Vanilla ice cream and a "big time." The ice cream will be served between 12 noon and 1 p. m., and the amusement tickets will be good between 9 a. m., when the gates open, and 6 p. m.

STRANDED ITALIANS FACE DEATH ON ICE

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 28.—(AP.)—Airmen and vessels attempting to rescue five survivors of the dirigible Italia and the Swedish flier, Lieut. Lundborg, faced overwhelming odds today.

Dangerous ice floes added to the peril of rescue operations. The steamship Quest, used as a base by Swedish airmen, encountered a movement of ice from the east across Hinlopen Strait and the crew was compelled to leave Wahlenberg Bay and seek refuge on the north coast of North East Land.

The moving ice also interfered with rescue work by causing a day-to-day shift in the position of the marooned men.

It was decided that no landings on the ice by large planes would be attempted. A Finnish seaplane was fitted with skiis and given a test at Virgo Bay in making a landing on a small area. The plane made a perfect landing on a snow field and stopped after a run of less than 109 yards.

Weather conditions which had delayed rescue operations were improving today. The west wind, which had been strong for three days, was dying down. A thick fog continued, however.

NOBILE CRITICIZED

Criticism has been voiced in Italy over the failure of Gen. Umberto Nobile to report the death of Vincenzo Pomella in the crash of the Italia until after Nobile himself had been rescued.

The newspaper Tribuna, of Rome, answering Nobile's critics, said the Commander of the Italia preferred to wait until he could break the news more gently to the widow and family of Pomella. Since the Navy's cipher code was lost in the crash, Nobile was unable to communicate in code until he reached the bass ship Citta di Milano. He did not want to broadcast the news so that it could be picked up by all listeners.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome quoted officials of the Naval ministry as saying there would be no investigation into the fact that Nobile was the first member of his crew to be rescued.

Wet Week Days, Dry Sundays, Will's Guess

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—The Democrats always do the unusual. They come here with the reputation that they never can get a convention finished, and here we are at one and its main problem is how to keep the thing going till Houston gets its flag money back.

WILL ROGERS

Smith has been practically approved on the floor of the convention three different times, and Joe Robinson for vice president once. Still they won't go ahead and have it done officially.

We are all just sitting here waiting for the benediction.

The platform it looks like they will adopt, is wet on weekdays and dry on Sundays.

Yours,

WILL.

ARREST IN ALLEGED ILLEGAL OPERATION

WASHINGTON, Pa. June 28.—With the arrest of John Kanniza, 40, county authorities tonight commenced an investigation of the death of Mrs. Jacob Rodocoy, 40, at Richeyville, near Beallsville. Mrs. Rodocoy is said to have died of blood poisoning. The body may be exhumed to determine if possible whether an illegal operation was performed. The husband of the dead woman, who was the mother of several children, preferred the charges against Kanniza.

JOHN D. MEYER TO WED SATURDAY MORNING

United States Attorney John D. Meyer will be married Saturday morning to Miss Margaret Spraggon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Spraggon, of 125 Gordon street, Edgewood. The ceremony will take place in St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church, Wilkinsburg. The couple will leave immediately after the wedding on a honeymoon trip, the destination Mr. Meyer declines to make known.

Pittsburgh As Others See Us

"Pittsburgh is undoubtedly an industrial community. But that is no reason why it should be a materialistic center."

—HENRY van DYKE.

HENRY van DYKE

HENRY van DYKE, author and diplomat, born in Germantown, Pa., November 10, 1852; educated at the Polytechnic Institute and Princeton University. Ordained in the Presbyterian ministry in 1879 and former pastor of United Congregational Church, Newport, R. I., and Brick Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn. Minister to Netherlands and Luxemburg, 1913-17. Author of many works. Lives in Princeton, N. J.

Pittsburgh is undoubtedly an industrial community. But that is no reason why it should be a materialistic center. In fact the argument goes just the other way. The Robot is hardly ever the best workman. Give us "the shoemaker who goes beyond his last," for he will be pretty sure to improve the quality of his shoes, and he will be certain to try to make the city where he lives a better place to live in. Ideals are really the most practical things in the world. Fair wages, decent hours of work, and an opportunity to expand the mind and heart by an acquaintance with music, literature, and the other fine arts, will certainly help to fit the man who works with his hands for the high duties and privileges of American citizenship.

I believe that this is the ideal of Pittsburgh's best men and women. How well they live up to it, you know better than I do.

Henry van Dyke.

MELLON TO SAIL FOR EUROPE

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon tentatively has decided to take a short European trip for his vacation this year, he said today. He probably would leave July 12, spend two weeks abroad and return about August 15, in order to be back in the United States by the time the active Republican presidential campaign gets under way.

Mellon said he was confident of another Republican victory at the polls next November. The campaign will be made on virtually the same issues as those of 1920 and 1924, he believes, as "the situation has not changed materially."

He said he would take no active part in the campaign unless called on to do so. In that event, he will be willing to make several speeches, he said.

MILK, ICE FUND REACHES $309

The Sun-Tele Milk and Ice Fund took a nice, gentle slide over its third hundred mark today. The shove that gave it is special impetus is a gift of $70 from some youngsters living in the Northumberland street district. At the residence of Peter Glick they gave a lawn fete (that the rain really turned into a porch fete) and disposed of their generously-stocked wares of cones, candy, lemonade, cookies and needlework. The workers, who range in age from 3 to 12 years, included Peter Glick, Marjorie Glick, Janet Lewin, J. Livingston Foster, Louise Glick, Alice Hagedorn Cohen, Bertha Rauh Cohen, Marjorie Lewin, Sarah Glick, Thomas Frank, James Frank and Jean Benswanger.

The Outlook Alliance, one of Pittsburgh's prominent women's organizations and one whose budget always includes a milk and ice gift, has sent its customary $10 to the fund and the Picot Club, an evening sewing club of Rosslyn Farms mothers and daughters, has added $5. It, too, is an annual contributor.

Previously reported	$224.48
Northumberland street fete	70.00
Outlook Alliance	10.00

Dog Victim Asks $25,000

JUNE BOLES

Bitten by a dog, last January 15, June Boles, 7, 837 Tobin street, North Side, has entered suit, through her mother, Mrs. Ruth Boles, for $25,000 against a neighbor, Yvonne Githens, owner of the dog. The child was in a hospital for weeks as a result of the animal's attack, the bill of complaint avers.

THEY CONTRIBUTE $12.25

A "made-up" play for which they used their Hallowe'en costumes, together with a motion picture, a sale of candy and a "passing of the cap," netted $12.25 for The Sun-Telegraph Milk and Ice Fund from Hutchison avenue children pictured above. In the front row are Richard Rhodes, Ned Stehl and Blanche Peters, and in the rear are Nevin Rhodes, Sarah Moyer, Anna May Peters and Virginia Stehl.

ROGERS 'KEYNOTER' FOR WOMEN

By WILL ROGERS.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—They got me out of bed early yesterday to attend a big breakfast given to over a thousand political women who have left their husbands, bed and board, and are assisting America's champion pastime.

I was the only alleged man at the breakfast, just think of that, the only male party invited to attend the principal social function of the female contingent.

Well, the old "shiek" (I mean sheep) of Claremore, Okla., sure did look his best in the only "seesucker" suit I had worn since a baby.

These women are a great audience, when you get 'em off to themselves and speak to 'em in their native tongue. Us women sho' had some fun.

Mrs. Dan Moody, the charming wife of the Texas "Governor," was on my right, and Mrs. Emily Blair (whom the affair was really given for), was right by me, and I had the surest fire finish in the world. I introduced Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, who made an awful nice and appropriate speech.

I really had what would be called the keynote speech among us women.

The breakfast was billed for 9 o'clock, on the roof of the Rice Hotel, and on account of the elevators we all arrived for a lovely luncheon.

Everybody talks about "what the country needs." What this country needs is more elevators.

If you get a place in one you don't like to give it up, so you just keep it, and half of Texas is just riding up and down.

Met Mrs. Al Smith and her lovely family over at the hall this morning. We recalled old times when I used to visit their box at the late Democratic upheaval in New York. She looks mighty fine. I told her every time I pick up a paper that another son or daughter had just married and that I was beginning to have apprehension as to how long that could last.

Sam Blythe, who sits by me in the convention, and the best political writer that ever lied for a candidate, told me that out of 50 years of going to conventions, that this was the prettiest and best hall he ever saw.

Odd McIntyre was here with us. He was sitting with Sam and I, but he had to go back to New York to wash the dog.

Claude Bowers ended up his wonderful speech with the following:

"The battle hour has struck, then to your tents, O Israel."

Now what do you suppose that Israel was put in there for? The only thing I never saw was one living in a tent.

When he mentioned farm relief, the District of Columbia, and the Virgin Island banners were carried around for twenty minutes.

Joe Robinson disposed of the prohibition problem easier than any one I had ever heard. He said:

"There are wets and drys both, in the Democratic party. I don't think we should do anything to lose the drys' support, and I think we should keep the good will of the wets."

Joe really solved it, but I would like to see him nominated. He is from my wife's state, and it would mean a lot to her. We know the Robinsons' and they are fine folks. And Joe not only would make a fine Vice President, but would be able to step in, in case of a national calamity—God forbid that such should happen—but Joe is really competent to care for such.

Well, I have finished my mission at conventions. Finally a preacher prayed last night, from memory and not from manuscript, and funny thing it was my old friend, Dr. Jacobs of Houston, and he is a cattle man in the week days. He raises Brahma cattle and Presbyterians.

If it wasn't for paying our respects and a few more hotel bills to Houston, why the thing is over.

So voters get in the middle of the road—don't sell your vote too cheap.

For this is one campaign where the Democrats will have as much money as the Republicans. Smith has as much backing as Hoover, so hold out for the higher bidder.

Tammany Hall has got more money than the Engineers Club.

"Unbutton your purse, O Israel."

FREED FROM WORKHOUSE ON HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Miss Inez Taylor, Fullerton street, sent to the workhouse a few days ago for 30 days by Magistrate A. D. Brandon for accosting men was released on habeas corpus proceedings instituted by her counsel, John R. Frankel. It was her first offense and the sentence being excessive, Judge Ambrose B. Reid ordered her release.

'PADLOCK' NOT RUM PROOF

Raiding the Negley Inn, 5608 Penn avenue, which was placed under a Federal padlock for one year less than two weeks ago, government prohibition agents last night declared they confiscated whisky, gin, champagne and ale of a total value of about $800. Joseph Miljus, 52, reputed proprietor, and George Davis, 44, were reported arrested in the place.

Sixten quarts of gin, half a barrel of beer and seven quarts of whisky were declared to have been found behind the bar of a club on the second floor of 210 Smithfield street. James Rowlan, 48, was reported arrested by the agents. In another raid the agents reported seizing about 400 pints of home brew, five gallons of alcohol and 14 quarts of moonshine at the Young Men's Republican Club, second floor of 126 Collins avenue.

FALLS ON SIDEWALK SUES CITY FOR $25,000

Alleged carelessness in removing snow and ice from the sidewalk in front of 95 South Twenty-seventh street last winter led to the filing of a $25,000 damage suit in Common Pleas Court yesterday. Frank Esser claiming that sum from the City of Pittsburgh for personal injuries, suffered in a fall there.

SAFETY LIGHT UP; 1 DEAD

While city officials and civic leaders were dedicating a beacon to the cause of safety, William H. Wooten, 69, of 345 Hastings street, was struck by an auto that climbed onto the pavement at Beechwood boulevard and Penn avenue.

He died three hours later in Pittsburgh Hospital. The driver, F. J. Wittman, of Sharpsburg, was held for the coroner.

Coroner William J. McGregor, Councilman James F. Malone and Gen. A. J. Logan, chairman of the better traffic committee, spoke at the dedication of the safety beacon at Sixth and Webster avenues and Grant street. Mrs. Enoch Rauh, director of the Department of Public Welfare, accepted the shaft for the city.

ARBUCKLE BROS. HEAD DIES IN N.Y.

William Arbuckle Jamison, 65, managing partner of the Arbuckle Brothers interests, died in New York yesterday. He was stricken with a heart attack last Monday.

Mr. Jamison was a nephew of John and Charles Arbuckle, founders of the company. He and his two sisters, Miss Martha and Miss Margaret Jamison, of Sherman avenue, North Side, inherited the business and kept it entirely within the family. The partnership was said to be one of the richest in the United State.

Mr. Jamison was born in Pittsburgh and was educated at Western University of Pennsylvania, now University of Pittsburgh. In 1917 he was named a member of the international sugar commission. He had made his home in New York for a number of years, directing the business and looking after business affairs of his sisters.

Besides his sisters, Mr. Jamison leaves his wife. His body is being brought to Pittsburgh for burial in the Allegheny Cemetery Saturday morning.

FALL IN HOME CAUSES DEATH

An investigation concluded this morning by city detectives into the death of Frank Scaramella, 32, of 448 Cedarville street, who died last night in the West Penn Hospital, revealed that death apparently had been caused by a fall. Scaramella was found unconscious in his home early yesterday.

He was taken to the hospital, where death occurred without his making a statement. The homicide squad was notified when cuts were found on his head.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

MICE AND MEN

By L. M. BLAKE

"NO, I won't set a day for our marriage," Melba Ashley said quietly. "I don't mind being engaged to you. But married—that's different!"

"We can't remain engaged forever," Val Crawford returned crossly.

"Then find another girl. As for us, we're happier this way than we would be married," Melba insisted. "You're too jealous, too suspicious, too—too cruel!"

"I can't help being like that," Val protested hotly. "I think of you all the time. And I don't want you thinking of any fellow but me."

"You once forgot yourself and slapped me because I insisted Lew White was worth thinking about."

"I'm sorry," Val returned gruffly. "I've apologized for that slap a dozen times."

"Yes. But I can't help wondering what would happen if we were married and got into an argument. Would it be slaps or kicks?"

The girl was smiling, but her eyes were serious.

Val, 30, dark and good looking, glared angrily about the well-furnished parlor of the Ashley home. Melba, 20, frail, pretty and, according to her friends, "nobody's fool," glanced toward him timidly, then shook her head.

They had become acquainted when Melba first went to work at the Calco factory a year previous. Soon courtship had ensued. But innumerable quarrels had occurred, all arising from Val's jealous nature.

For two other workers admired Melba. They were Lew White and Joe Claybrook. Lew, a natural Romeo, had, at one time or other, gone out with practically every single girl in the place. Joe, 28, a widower, admitted a fond desire to have Melba "mother" his two children.

Then Val had secured work with the Small Litho Company. The job paid better than the Calco, and offered a fine future. But each day Val suffered torture as he thought of Melba left alone to fall a victim to the wiles and fascination of either Lew or Joe.

Now that he was no longer there to monopolize her attention, Melba would talk to the men at noon hour, and they would, of course, try to get her to go out with them. She had, in the dim past, once gone out with Joe. There was no guarantee that she would not fall victim a second time.

He could order Joe and Lew to keep away. But Val was not anxious to quarrel and fight with either man. He could, however, be cruel and tyrannical where Melba was concerned. And a plan had suggested itself to his mind.

He could get his brother, Jack, to come up from Logan City, where their parents lived; then he could get Jack a job at the Calco firm and the "kid"—he was only 21—could keep an eye on Melba and report all that took place. The plan had worked out perfectly so far. The night previous Val had had the young chap over to meet Melba's folks and the girl.

Melba and the "kid" speedily had become friends. For Jack was far more courteous, kind and sympathetic than his older brother. They had played the phonograph and danced together.

Val had watched, afire with jealousy and yet proud of the subterfuge which he confidently believed would prevent Melba from seeing too much of Joe and Lew.

Val aroused himself from his musing, and caught Melba's hand.

"Jack is going to work at the Calco in the morning," he said earnestly. "Kind of keep an eye on him, and cheer him up a bit at noon. Everything will be strange and he might blow up on the job."

"I'll do my best," the girl promised readily. "I know he'll get along all right."

The next evening, in the unpretentious room, Val questioned Jack as to things at the Calco factory.

"It wasn't bad," Jack admitted. "The work isn't hard. And the bunch seems pretty decent. I met that Joe and Lew you've been telling me about. Your girl, Melba, and we fellows stood outside at noon and talked about you. They think you've got a great job."

"Don't let those two birds fool you," Val growled excitedly. "Keep Melba away from them. Take her over to that drug store and buy her something. Or take her for a walk down to the park. They're no-account bums, those two!"

"Sure! Sure!" Jack agreed. "Whatever you say goes. She's your girl."

Days followed. Val called regularly at the Ashley home. Mr. and Mrs. Ashley looked upon him as a fine potential son-in-law. He had a good job with a future, was saving and home loving; his jealous nature they overlooked, treating it as a sort of joke.

Jack continued to look after Melba during the working days. He never saw her in the evening. But at length he seemed to tire of the day watch-dog role.

"I can't do a thing with Melba," he declared heatedly one evening. "She considers me just a 'kid.' And during work hours she talks to that Joe almost all the time. I wouldn't be surprised if they elope one of these days. She told me he had asked her."

"What!" snarled Val. "I'll see that bird Saturday and tell him a thing or two."

"Better not," Jack advised. "I saw him boxing with Lew White at noon today. They're both clever."

Val trembled with rage.

A number of evenings later Jack announced a decision.

"I'm through with this business," he told Val. "Hereafter I'll answer your questions, but at work that girl can do as she darn well pleases."

"Jack, Jack," protested Val. "What's come over you lately? You are crabby all the time."

"Well, I can't tell that girl a thing. She does just as she pleases—always talking to Joe. And today that fool Lew asked her to go with him to the Blue Club dance."

Val sneered. "She won't go. I'll tell her parents and they'll attend to that."

The next morning, as they sat in the parlor, Val told Melba, "I can't see why you insist on talking to that Joe and Lew."

"I can't see why you have to cross-question your brother, Jack, and then come over here and quarrel with me."

"Those two fellows are no good!"

"Just because you don't like them, they're no good," Melba returned with some heat. "You make me tired. A person should be friendly with anyone who doesn't insult them."

"The way they look at you is an insult."

Melba laughed coldly. "Anyway, they don't talk to me like your brother, Jack."

"What has he been saying to you?" Val questioned suspiciously.

"Oh! Telling me I should do this and that. Just like you do, only not so rough about. I'm sick of him!"

"You used to say you liked him."

"That was because he was your brother."

"Well, I'll tell him to leave you alone hereafter," Val announced.

"Oh, no! Don't!" Melba protested excitedly. "He might blame me and be mad."

"If you'd only marry me and end all this," Val said gloomily.

The girl smiled. "I do feel like doing something desperate," she admitted. Then added hurriedly, "Not tonight, however."

Several days later Val was working overtime when the foreman told him an urgent 'phone call had come in. Wondering he went to answer it.

Melba's father was speaking over the wire:

"Val! Val! We just got a note by special messenger."

"Yes," Val said numbly.

"Melba has eloped. She's on her way to Carleyville. We must stop her."

"How can we?" Val groaned. "She was 21 last week."

"I had forgot."

"That infernal Joe!" snarled Val. "I'd like to wring his neck."

"Joe?"

"Sure! She didn't elope with Lew, did she?"

"No!"

"Then who did she elope with?" Val asked excitedly. "What does the note say?"

"The note says she is leaving with the man she loves: Jack Crawford."

"My brother?" Val yelled. "Oh! —what's the use?"

A TRUE BLESSING

For All Nervous and Ailing

When the good Jesuit Fathers first come to Paraguay, centuries ago, they found the native Indians drinking "Mate" to conserve their strength and to restore the sick to health.

Other tribes would travel hundreds of miles to Paraguay to get "Mate" to enjoy its blessings. Under the skillful hands of Jesuit Fathers immense Mate plantations were laid out which furnish us with—"JOYZ Yerba MATE"—today. It is simply made like tea in a teapot.

During the Great War—"JOYZ Yerba MATE"—was used for shell-shocked soldiers and other convalescents. Now used in European hospitals for Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble. Just a cup or two of this soothing drink brings a glow of youthful health and feelings of deep contentment. It calms the tired nerves and you sleep like a child. The ideal daily drink for everybody. "JOYZ Yerba MATE" is not a patent medicine but is today the National Drink of the Argentine and consumed by twenty-five million people throughout South America. Strongly endorsed by Doctors, Scientists, Pasteur Institute, Press and Clergy. ASK FOR A LARGE TIN OF "JOYZ YERBA MATE." For sale at:

VOTE MACHINES TODAY IN NEW LOCATIONS

That public sentiment in Pittsburgh on the presidential candidacies of Herbert C. Hoover and Alfred E. Smith may be thoroughly tested The Sun-Telegraph is conducting its straw vote today in new localities. Four of the voting machines, through which the citizens are offered opportunity to register their preference, have been shifted to buildings not previously canvassed. This policy will be continued until the wishes of the voters have been scrutinized in every section of the city.

NEW LOCATIONS

The machines in the Highland Building has been removed to the East End Savings and Trust Building, that in the William Penn Hotel to the Hotel Henry lobby, the one in the Fort Pitt Hotel lobby to the Bell Telephone Building, and the one in the Roosevelt Hotel to the Fulton Building.

It has been found that the occupants and visitors of buildings and hotels, taken in the aggregate, differ just as individuals differ. The canvass in one office building has shown a large majority for Hoover, while in another Smith has a big lead. It is this condition that has led to the policy to test out sentiment in many quarters.

P. R. R. CREATES NEW OFFICE HERE

Pittsburgh has been made the headquarters of two Pennsylvania Railroad executives of the vice presidential rank through a change in the executive organization authorized yesterday at a meeting of the board of directors in Philadelphia.

E. T. Whiter, the regional vice president here, through the reorganization becomes "Vice-President-Pittsburgh" and will devote his time to matters involving relations between the railroad company and the large industries and population of the district.

He will be succeeded as regional vice president by E. W. Smith, now general manager of the Eastern Division at Philadelphia, who will give his attention to the problems of physical operation of the company's activities here.

Following are other changes in the executive personnel involving the Central region:

J. P. Patterson, general superintendent of the Eastern Ohio Division here becomes general manager of the Long Island Railroad.

N. B. Pitcairn, superintendent of the New York Division succeeds Patterson.

D. Y. Geddes, superintendent of the Panhandle Division succeeds Pitcairn.

T. C. Herbert, superintendent of the Monongahela Division succeeds Geddes.

H. T. Frushour, division engineer of the Cleveland Division succeeds Herbert.

4 PGH. FLIERS PASS TEST

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Eight Western Pennsylvania men, four of them Pittsburghers, are among 212 candidates who have qualified for appointment as flying cadets of the Army, ordered to report to camp July 1, it was announced yesterday by the War Department.

Robert J. Blake, Merrill D. Burnside, Harold Goldstein and Donald R. Putt are to be Pittsburgh's representatives at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Tex., where approximately 90 candidates from eastern states are ordered to report. The other Western Pennsylvanians are Frederick B. Betts, of Clearfield; J. Colin Smith, of New Kensington; A. Elliott Wilson, of Oil City, and Burton P. Lewis, of Sharon.

Before proceeding to camp all of the new cadets are under instructions to go to the nearest military post to enlist.

ITCHY PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

On Face and Body. Lost Sleep. Cuticura Heals.

"My face and body broke out with pimples and sore eruptions. The pimples were hard and red, and festered. They itched so badly that I scratched, and my face was disfigured. They bothered me so much that I could not sleep or rest. The trouble lasted about four months.

"I tried other remedies without any help. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and sent for a free sample. After using it I purchased more, and in six weeks I was completely healed." (Signed) Walter Coriell, R. D. 3, New Alexandria, Pa.

PLANTS MAP EXPANSION PROGRAMS

Construction of the 38-mile extension from Cochran's Mills to Connellsville, forming the connecting link in the new Taplin eastern trunk line, authorized yesterday by the directors of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway Company, will be followed by vast improvements in large industrial plants in the upper Monongahela valley. The steel mills of that region will be brought closer to the seaboard at Baltimore, and, being served by three railroad trunk lines, an industrial boom is expected to follow.

Extensions of the plant railroads of the Pittsburgh Steel Company and the American Steel and Wire Company are in contemplation and important improvements will be made in the mills centering around Monessen, Donora, Charleroi, Belle Vernon, Fayette City and Allenport. Besides the industrial activities, it is declared that extensive suburban real estate developments will follow construction of the new line, which is expected to be completed within three years.

DIRECTORS VOTE AYE

NEW YORK, June 28—(AP.)—Directors of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway Company yesterday authorized construction of the 38-mile extension from Cochran's Mill to Connellsville, Pa., sanctioned last week by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The extension will provide the road with a permanent connection with the Western Maryland and thus will furnish the Pittsburgh area with another outlet to Baltimore. The cost of the extension has been placed at $12,801,619.

Frank E. Taplin, chairman of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia, said that the road would proceed with the construction and that the finance committee was considering alternate proposals of financing.

The directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 ½ per cent, payable July 31, to stock of record July 16.

RAIDERS FIND DEAD CAT IN MASH BARREL

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., June 28.—A dead cat was found in a barrel of mash by prohibition officers when they raided the home of Charles Cunningham on Nixons run.

The SKY seemed the limit

"Especially after that last raise. Why the devil are they promoting Benson now—instead of me?"

The pity of it is that so many men just lack drive enough to make the grade . . . Often they never realize the reason—that intestinal poisons sap energy—destroy initiative! Or perhaps they try ordinary laxatives; health foods that take weeks to act—cathartics that wrack the system . . .

Feen-a-mint is different!

It's just like a bit of delicious chewing gum. You don't swallow it—you chew it!

Its magic laxative principle is released slowly, the way science meant it to be released. It actually becomes part of the digestive fluids—does not disturb digestion. It works with the body—not against it!

It won't torture you with griping pains. It won't poison or weaken the system. It won't enslave you to laxative pills. Get Feen-a-mint at your druggist's. Correct constipation—now!

ON THE CORNER OF TENTH AND PENN

VESS DRY has taken Pittsburgh by storm

YESTERDAY just a new ginger ale; today Vess Dry is literally on the lips of almost everyone in town. Everyone's talking about it; everyone's drinking it—a success in a single day.

And why not? The people of this town have wisely judged Vess Dry solely by its quality. They have judged it by its delicious taste—its refreshing tang—instead of by its price. They have discovered that, for the first time, they can get a delightful thirst-quenching ginger ale, bubbling over with health and goodness, for the common-sense price of 5 cents.

Here's the secret of its low price

No synthetic substitutes are used in Vess Dry. Only real ginger—real cane sugar—the finest fruit essences and spices—and pure, sparkling water. No expense has been spared to obtain only the best of ingredients. But we have counter-balanced this extra expense by doing away with costly labels, gold foil and other frills and trimmings which add to cost and not to quality. Then, too, as Vess Dry is bottled right here in town, we are not put to the expense of shipping bottles and water, from one part of the country to another.

That's the plain, unvarnished story of Vess Dry—the reason why we gladly urge comparison with any other similar beverage regardless of price. You can try Vess Dry at any of the town's better drug, grocery, confectionery stores, and soft drink stands.

Why suffer with Rheumatism?

You know it cannot be rubbed away

ARE you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.?

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered with rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best."—Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

—purely vegetable

S.S.S. is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

S.S.S. Builds Sturdy Health

Flies and mosquitoes quickly die . . .

Don't run around on a hot day with a fly-swatter. Keep cool. Spray Flit. Flit clears the house in a few minutes of disease-bearing flies and mosquitoes. It searches out the cracks where roaches, bed bugs and ants hide and breed, destroying their eggs. Fatal to insects, harmless to you. Will not stain.

Do not confuse Flit with ordinary insecticides. Greater killing power insures satisfaction with Flit. One of the largest corporations in the world guarantees Flit to kill insects, or money back. Buy Flit and a Flit sprayer today.

BUGS BAER Says

HOUSTON, June 28.

TALKING with Tex Rickard, Tex Trumbull and Ter Nathan Burkan last night when Tex Swinnerton and Tex Ginsberg came along.

Tex Ginsberg objected to the last line of Tex Bowers' keyhole speech, "To Thy Tents, Oh Israel."

Tex Rickard wanted to know what was the matter with "To Thy Tents, O, Israel."

Tex Ginsberg said, "Why, everybody knows the tent business is bad."

Tex Bowers' keyhole speech was a goulash of associated hyperbole that flowed along just as smoothly as the Missouri River and just as muddy.

We preferred Senator Moses' keyhole speech in Kansas City.

That speech was the climax to the one on the Mount. Once again Moses smote the rock and apple sauce gushed forth.

We have the answer to this convention business. Abbreviate all this hamburgered nonsense and turn the White House into a duplex apartment. Tex Hoover could occupy half and Tex Smith the other half.

The friends of Tex Smith, with their soggy hip pockets, could call around on Al through the back door.

And we will bet that you would find all of Tex Hoover's pals in the back of the house.

There is plenty of delayed chatter about Tex Jefferson and Tex Jackson, two boys who managed to get elected without the aid of badges.

Looks like Tex Robinson of Arkansas will get the Vice Presidential plaster. He has already bought a Texas cowboy hat.

The hat clerk asked Tex Robinson, "What sizes?"

Tex answered, "Eight laps to the mile."

When Tex Smith is in the White House we will meet you in the cellar.

Tex Smith has no objections to Tex Robinson as Vice President provided that Tex Robinson brings his own.

TEN HERBS JUST WHAT SHE NEEDED

Wilkinsburg Lady Says It Improved Digestion, Blood and Nerves; Increased Strength.

"Ten Herbs was just what I needed, as it seems to have cleansed, purified and invigorated my entire system, and thus gave Nature a chance to create better digestion, improve the blood, restore restful sleep, and give real nerve vigor and bodily strength," was the statement of Miss Rose Newland, 1025 Ross Avenue, Wilkinsburg, Pa., (near Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine.

MISS ROSE NEWLAND

"Following a street car accident, about four years ago, my system became in a very weakened, run-down condition," Miss Newland continued. "I was just about a nervous wreck. I finally had to spend four months in a hospital, and got so bad that I was told that I had only a short time to live. Food did not digest properly, and my bowels were irregular. Any little noise bothered me, and I could not sleep at night. I was so weak I could not walk a block without getting out of breath. There were rheumatic pains in my shoulders, and my whole system seemed poisoned and clogged up.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the papers, and saw that it contained roots, herbs and barks. I started using your medicine, and it is doing all that you claimed for it. I have a better appetite, and food gives me more nourishment. My bowels are regular, and my nerves are quiet. The rheumatic pains have left my shoulders. I have gained so much in strength that I can spend the day shopping and come home without feeling exhausted. I can honestly say that Ten Herbs has given me a different future to look forward to. I gladly add my name to the already long list of persons who have publicly endorsed your medicine."

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

STAGE AND SCREEN ACTIVITIES DETAILED IN PICTURES AND GOSSIP ABOUT PLAYERS

News of Photoplay Stars at Work and at Play In Hollywood Combined With Local Amusement Notes

Ernst Lubitsch Plans to Direct Story He Wrote With Lead Role Being Portrayed by Barrymore

By REGINA CREWE

(Copyright, 1928, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, June 28.

WITH "Mrs. Cheyney" in the discard, the combination of John Barrymore as star and Ernst Lubitsch as director will carry on with a story titled "Conquest" as their vehicle.

It is an original by Lubitsch, who beside being such an excellent pictorial story-teller, is endowed with the ability to write them on paper as well as on celluloid. It is announced that John Considine, supervisor of Barrymore pictures for United Artists, will do his utmost to assist in making "Conquest" a "bigger and better" photograph than "Tempest," the current Barrymore release.

What with the news of Mae Murray's year-old motherhood, and the sad death of George Seigmann, Hollywood is torn between congratulations and condolences. The story that Mae's small princeling McDivani has attained the age of 16 months without making his bow to ma's public has the town humming like an eight-cylinder motor.

Since the dear dead days of "Hearts of the World," George Seigmann was known as one of the very finest "heavies" on the screen. His most recent pictures are "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Hotel Imperial." His death was caused by pernicious anemia. His age is given as 45.

These stunt men don't always come through their dare-devilties free from harm. Every now and then something goes wrong. For instance, John Montijo was retained to fly in an airplane directly at a speeding motor car. Just at the crucial moment the car was supposed to swerve out of the way, according to Montijo. But it didn't—and the unscheduled crash came off. John sued Samuel Goldwyn, Inc., for 12 grand, but lost the case.

They say Mary has saved the curls which fell on the cutting-room floor when she had her locks bobbed. So all those who would like a curl will kindly form a line to the left. And don't crowd please.

Judge Lindsey must be putting in some long hours at his typewriter, for in addition to "The Revolt of Modern Youth," hizzoner has completed another movie yarn titled "The New Love." The Judge's initial venture in screenland comes with "Companionate Marriage," which is to be shown in Detroit next month, according to present plans.

Another costume drama will soon be "in our midst." It will be the the screen version of a century-old French play called "Adrienne Le Couvreur." Of course that won't be its movie title. The show at present is enjoying a reportedly successful revival on the Parisian stage. The authors are Le Gouve and Scribe. I hope their names mean something to you. They don't to me.

June Lissner, who used to be June Heide, of New York, before she married Herbert Brennon's assistant director, has been engaged as Lilly Damita's "stand-in" girl on the "Rescue" set. In case you forget, the "stand-in" is a person who so closely resembles the star that she is used for all lighting and camera set-ups, bowing out of the picture when the celeb steps in to emote. As Lily is beautiful, June's engagement is subtly complimentary. Perhaps the most startling resemblance between stars and "stand-ins" is that existing in the cases of Greta Garbo and Pola Negri. When you see Pola or Greta with her "stand-in" you swear that you are seeing double and resolve to lead a better life.

COMING BILLS -:- ARE TO PRESENT -:- THESE PLAYERS

William Haines has the leading role in "Telling the World" coming to the screen of the Penn.

Howard Freeman has a role in "The Nervous Wreck," next comedy of Nixon Players in Nixon.

Gwen Lee is featured in "A Thief in the Dark," photoplay feature booked for the Davis.

Richard Dix is the star of "Easy Come, Easy Go," scheduled for early showing in the Stanley.

Gus Forbes has a leading role in "Cradle Snatchers," which Sharp Players will present in the Pitt.

RIDGWAY CITIZENS ORGANIZE NEW BANK

RIDGWAY, Pa. June 28.—Steps have been taken to organize a commercial loan bank in Ridgway. The following officers have been selected to complete the organization: Chairman, Earl Smith; secretary, S. D. Reed; treasurer, Samuel F. Anderson. About 50 business men of Ridgway are interested in the business and it is expected that it will be ready to begin operation on about September 1. The capital stock has been fixed at $50,000 divided into shares of $50 each, and about half has already been subscribed.

MIRTH IS KEY OF BILLS

"Cradle Snatchers," next week's offering of the George Sharp Players at the Pitt Theater, is a farce comedy woven about a trio who have reached the point where they resent the neglect of their middle-aged husbands. Mabel Kroman, Alice Ann Baker and Brown Mehard will portray the wives.

Today the seat sale opens in the box office of the Nixon for next week's production of the Nixon Players, "The Nervous Wreck," by Owen Davis, a comedy of adventure in the Far West.

"A Thief in the Dark," a fun-drama of spooks and crooks, is announced as the photoplay feature in the Davis next week. The stage headliner will be "Wagner's Big Sideshow."

"Telling the World," starring William Haines, will be the screen feature in the Penn next week. The stage presentation is another Loew-Publix show, "Xylophonia," featuring Chester Fredericks, speed dancer; Rose Valyda, singer; the Musical Johnstons and others.

The Robbins family will top the vaudeville in the Harris the last three days of this week. The screen feature will be Rex Bell in "Wild West Romance."

Milton Sills, in "The Hawk's Nest," is coming to the Stanley next week. It is an underworld story by Wid Gunning. The picture portrays gang warfare. Doris Kenyon plays opposite the star.

Bobby O'Neill and Company, funmakers, will head the vaudeville in the Sheridan Square the last three days of this week. Florence Vidor in "The Magnificent Flirt" is the screen offering.

PRESENT NOVELTY ACT IN FLOTILLA

Milton Merrell, Bunny Drown and Carl Gerrold, director and members respectively of Etzi Covato's orchestra, in the Flotilla Club, are introducing a novelty number titled "We Love It." Diane and DeMar, dance team, are playing the second week of their engagement.

BARRETT IN SANDERS FOR FOURTH WEEK

Hughie Barrett and his International Orchestra are playing nightly their fourth week engagement in Sanders, Freeport highway. Opening the month of July, Tal Henry and orchestra will play a week's engagement. Beginning July 9, Charles Dornberger will bring his orchestra to Sanders.

COLLEGIATE BAND PLAYS AT PINES

The Pines, Perrysville road, is attracting picnics and private parties. There is a baseball diamond, open air dance floor and other features. The Wash-Jeff Nine, a collegiate orchestra, furnishes music for dancing.

WHY did Heinz go into the cereal business?

Because the House of Heinz, after years of research work, was convinced that it was possible to make a contribution to your health and enjoyment by the production of a cereal food entirely different from any other already on the market.

Heinz Rice Flakes are the result.

But to give you Heinz Rice Flakes it was necessary to develop an entirely new process of cereal-making.

By this patented process, certain qualities of the whole rice grain are combined in such a way as to impart a new health-giving quality to the flakes. This is the first and only time that the natural cellulose or roughage content of the rice grain has been entirely retained in a cereal, giving to Heinz Rice Flakes the properties of a gentle, natural laxative.

Most important of all—you will say—is the delightful flavor of this new cereal. An entrancing, nut-like flavor that has no likeness in any cereal you ever tasted.

All in all, Heinz Rice Flakes are just what Heinz set out to perfect... an entirely different, more edible, better tasting, more healthful, crispier, crunchier cereal food . . . ready to eat with milk or cream and a little sugar.

This is Heinz contribution to the cereal-making industry and to the health of the nation.

REAL ESTATE

Leo J. Kloos has purchased from Pauline D. Edwards the former Dilworth house, a large brick residence at 5533 Fifth avenue, near Ivy street, Seventh Ward, according to reports heard in real estate circles. The lot is 55x120 feet. The Commonwealth Real Estate Company was the broker. Mr Kloos recently sold a large residence at 136 North Dithridge street to interests which purchased the ground for an addition to Webster Hall.

W. M. Robinson has filed plans for alterations to the residence at 5201 Westminster place, Shadyside, to cost $20,000. This home was recently purchaed from Mrs Eben B. Clarke. The lot is 118x186 feet and includes a three-car garage.

A row of 12 houses at 301-23 Path way, Fifteenth Ward, lot 200x60 feet, has been sold through the J. H. Aronson Company for C. Hougey.

A 16-room brick and stucco residence known as Simpson Villa on four acres of ground in the Evergreen road, extending through the Babcock boulevard, has been sold for Joseph H. Simpson to Marie A. Dolan for $20,000. There is a large garage on the property. The C. L. Saxton Company closed the deal.

A three-story brick building containing two stores and four apartments at 2101-03 Brighton road has been sold for N. Port and S. Gettlemen to Louis Goldvarg for $16,500. The lot is 40x110 feet. The deal was made through the Union Real Estate Company.

A brick house and garage on the south side of Fifth avenue near Hastings street, Fourteenth Ward, has been sold by Joseph Florette to Sarah Smythe.

A residence at 320 Carnegie place, Fourteenth Ward, lot 37x124 feet, has been sold by Fannie W. Shields to John A. Kapp, Jr.

A business property on the southeast side of Penn avenue near Seventeenth street, Second Ward, lot 21x100 feet, has been conveyed by the George W. Jones estate to Smith D. Morton.

The Carnegie Steel Corporation has purchased from Jacob Weiskircher a tract of 9.2 acres along the Monongahela Southern Railroad at Dravosburg for $10,000.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

TRIFLES, LIGHT AS SUMMER LOVE

THE first few months, a bridegroom wonders why God made woman so wonderful—later, he begins to wonder merely why God made woman.

The hardest thing for a man to face after the honeymoon is not the bills—but the office force.

* * *

A man makes a virtue of a necessity, when he prides himself on being perfectly faithful to a wife who is so watchful that he never gets a chance to be otherwise.

HELEN ROWLAND

It takes all a woman's won't-power to say "No" to a man when he pleads for "another kiss," "another chance," or another helping of the food that disagrees with him. "Just once more!" is the devil's best argument.

In these speedy days, a girl feels quite sophisticated at 17, utterly blase at 20, and almost senile at 25.

Sometimes a woman may marry a man because she needs him, but far oftener it is because she thinks he needs HER.

Even a man, himself, has no adequate idea of what percentage of his love is alcohol, what percentage is moon-madness, and what percentage is love of adventure.

Everything has to be "jazzed up" these days, whether it's Shakespeare, Wagner, a party, a complexion, love—or a soda fountain drink.

You can't measure a man's intelligence by the sort of women that appeal to him; because usually the more brains he has, the less sense he shows when it comes to choosing a woman.

* * *

A dog changes his whole expression by moving his ears—a man by removing his collar.

A LOVE CRAFT

When Dan Cupid Guides the Love Boat It Never Finds the Rocks

Drawn by Dorothy Flack

CANOES are about the first boats we read of in history. Probably the very first boat was a canoe hollowed out of a tree trunk. Therefore, it must be the oldest known water craft. And Dan Cupid is older than that, and Love is even older than Dan. So, what's the answer?

Just this—that Dan has known for centuries and centuries of the canoe and has eventually adopted it for his very own use, so that now it is truly the love craft of the age.

Many a love story is softly whispered in the old canoe, as it idly floats down the stream, with the chattering waters gaily singing a happy accompaniment to the soft dip of the paddle. Even the water lilies bob and sway and send out their fragrant perfume to speed the lovers on their happy way.

A frail craft, I hear you say? Well, Love, too, is frail, and still the strongest thing in the world. Paradoxical, perhaps, but ne'ertheless true.

So when you see one of these love crafts pushing out from the shore with its happy crew of two, you may know that Dan is sitting in the prow, guiding it, that it may safely reach the Harbor of Happiness in the Port of Love.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

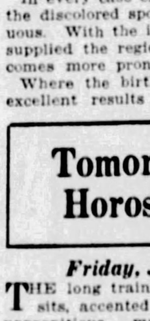
These Birth Marks Not Mother's Fault

MOTHERS have many necessary things to worry about yet they worry about many unnecessary things as well. While it is foolish to do this, it is perfectly natural.



DR. COPELAND

Every expectant mother hears stories about this or that deformity being caused by acts of the mother. It is almost certain that every birthmark will be traced to something the mother ate, or some other equally impossible cause.

As a matter of fact the normal expectant mother is not to blame for the physical defects of the new-born baby. Many a young woman has made herself miserable for months because she was afraid of "marking" her baby.

Today I am interested in birthmarks. I want to say a few things about them.

Most such marks are known to the doctors as a form of "nervus" or "angioma." These are caused by a thickening of the blood vessels, or by an increase in the number of blood vessels in one spot.

One of the most common inquiries sent to me is about birthmarks. Some mother has been watching a tiny red spot somewhere on the skin of her child grow larger, or she is distressed because since birth a large area of skin has been affected this way.

It is very unusual for a birthmark to remain the same size all through life. For example, a spot the size of a pinhead may spread to be the size of your hand.

In every case excitement makes the discolored spot more conspicuous. With the increase in blood supplied the region, the spot becomes more pronounced.

Where the birthmark is small, excellent results have been accomplished by use of the electric needle. This treatment almost invariably effects a permanent cure.

With the great progress made in using X-ray and radium wonderful results have been accomplished. In every case, however, the application must be done only by an expert.

Most drastic measures have been employed where the marks are on the face or neck. Plastic surgery has been successfully employed in some of these cases. Then there is an actual removal of more or less skin tissue, including the defect.

Let me give each of you mothers a word of advice: If you find that your baby has some sort of blemish or mark on its body, go to the doctor at once. Many things can be done while the child is young to correct such a condition. In this way you may save years of suffering and humiliation for your dearly beloved child.

I beg of you to put it out of your mind that some act or experience of yours has been responsible for the marking of your baby. There isn't a word of truth in such a theory. Science long ago destroyed this teaching.

There is a reasonable explanation for every such mark, but believe me, dear mother, it isn't your fault or any misconduct of mind or body that has accomplished this.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, June 29

THE long train of lunar transits, accented by the equally unpropitious mutual aspects, point to this day as holding many tests, trials and disagreeable situations to be met and vanquished. Some of these may be prevented with startling abruptness, and be of a whirlwind nature; other menaces may be hidden and subtle and not come to the surface. But in all situations be calm and poised and try to adjust matters by preparedness. Precaution and resolution may win the day.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year in which their mettle may be tested by many unforeseen events and disturbances as well as by subtlety and duplicity. By being wary, prepared and poised to meet all difficulties and menaces the situation may be turned to good account. Sign all writings carefully.

A child born on this day may be temperamental, and difficult to understand or rule.

Dye or Tint Faded Underthings Right in Rinse Water

Lingerie can always be kept bright, fresh and colorful — without fuss or bother—with Gypsy Dyes.

Can you imagine anything easier than this? Just add a few drops of Gypsy Dye to the rinse water—like bluing—and faded, lifeless, underthings take on radiant new beauty! No boiling required. Results are perfect, every time!

Every fastidious woman will want Gypsy Dyes conveniently at hand. Stop today at any drug or department store and take home a bottle to try.

Gypsy Dyes

Whose fault . . . when love fades?

Strange, what little things so often kill romance. Careless little things! Unconscious slips that creep in to mar treasured illusions. So unsuspected, the guilty one rarely guesses the truth... until it is too late.

Can anyone afford to risk body odor?

BODY ODOR is a fault that not even love can excuse or overlook.

Before this tell-tale offense, the most ardent affection may turn cold and fade away. In both our social and business life, body odor may be a serious menace to happiness.

And yet—not one of us is safe from body odor. To live, we must perspire. Even on cool days, our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste each 24 hours.

Body odor betrays—without warning the offender

This body moisture, whether visible or invisible, is always odorous. And it spares no one. Men or women—regardless of occupation or position in life—all may offend unless they take precautions.

And very often we may be guilty—without knowing it. For, once an odor becomes familiar to us, our own sense of smell becomes deadened to it. This misleads many people, even fastidious ones, into thinking they are safe—when actually they do offend.

Why take chances?

But there's no excuse for this unpardonable offense now. Just wash and bathe often with the delightful toilet soap that millions enjoy—Lifebuoy—it deodorizes.

The same gentle and abundant antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs — prevents body odor by purifying pores.

Lifebuoy's mild purity makes it ideal for complexions, too. It keeps skins clear and glowingly fresh. Millions use Lifebuoy for every toilet purpose.

What a clean scent!

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, and which vanishes as you rinse. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

STOPS BODY ODOR PROTECTS HEALTH

WILLARD ROBISON HEADLINER ON RADIO TONIGHT

WILLARD ROBISON, tenor and composer, will sing a group of his own compositions as the guest of the Maxwell hour to be broadcast through the NBC System, including KDKA, at 9 o'clock tonight. Mr. Robison is a pianist, and at one time played with Paul Whiteman's orchestra. He is also director of an orchestra of his own, and is well known as a night club entertainer. Nathaniel Shilkret also will direct an orchestra in several of Mr. Robinson's instrumental compositions, including Lotus Pool," from his "Inspiration Suite," "Fidgets" and "Peaceful Valley."

A group of sentimental songs will be sung by a quartet during the Michelin hour to be heard through KDKA and other NBC System stations at 10 o'clock. The quartet will open and close the program with "Breezing Along With the Breeze," and also will sing "Good-Bye, My Lady Love," and "When You're With Somebody Else." An orchestra will play popular dance numbers, such as "Lauretta," "Fascination Waltz," "Tango Alicia" and "My Little Dream Boat." A feature will be "Sonatique," an orchestral number by Louis Katzman, director of the musicians.

Tonight's features over WCAE include the River Choristers, a male octet; Hoover Sentinels in vocal and orchestra music, and the National Dance Orchestra. A local feature will be a piano recital at 7 o'clock by Gertrude Mohr, WCAE pianist.

Mme. Ada Malaspina-Tschirkow, lyric soprano, daughter of Itala Malaspina, a leading dramatic soprano of artistic reputation in Italy and South America, will take part in a recital to be broadcast by KDKA at 6:05. Others to be heard will be Dr. H. N. Malone, baritone, and Mrs. Robert Minardi, accompanist.

During the Democratic National Convention radio programs are subject to change without notice.

KDKA-WJAS In Convention Broadcast

KDKA and WJAS are in the coast-to-coast hookups broadcasting the Democratic National Convention in session in Houston.

The convention goes on the air at 1:00 p. m. (daylight saving time). Should there be night sessions they will be broadcast in their entirety. At the close of each day's session, a resume of events of the day will be presented.

"A PITTSBURGH TIRE FOR PITTSBURGHERS"

And Now---
ENGLERT CORDS
Are Sold on Deferred Payments
But—Only at
May-Stern & Co.

AT LAST—the Hoped-for Opportunity! Now you can buy a really high-grade tire—Englert Cords—on a dignified deferred credit policy.

This announcement, unusual as it is, undoubtedly will be wildly acclaimed by knowing Pittsburgh autoists. It now affords still another advantage to the many enjoyed by the host of Englert users.

The fact that Pittsburgh's foremost furniture store is the institution through which this new and greater Englert courtesy is extended adds immensely to the importance of this welcome news.

It's a Fact—
Once An Englert User Always An Englert User

Their unmistakable quality brings this about. Only after the most exhaustive test, covering a period of six years, did we decide on these high-grade tires for the great May-Stern fleet of trucks. And surely if they "stand-up" and prove satisfactory to us after the gruelling test they are subjected to by our heavy furniture trucks on all sorts of paving and under all sorts of conditions—they undoubtedly must be satisfactory to the average tire user.

Our experience with these tires is similar to that of other large users and thousands of satisfied Englert individual car owners. Such recommendation must convince the most skeptical tire user of superior Englert quality.

Englert cords are unconditionally guaranteed for one full year of service, regardless of mileage, by the Englert Tire & Rubber Company. And to this we now add the unrestricted May-Stern guarantee for service and satisfaction.

Though these Englert cords are the equal of the highest priced tires made, yet they are popularly priced—lower, in fact, that the average tire.

Men's 4.50 All-White "Nelvo" Broadcloth Shirts

2.85

What more attractive an offering could be made for First Floor Day than this, if one considers value and savings? These are made of the genuine imported "Nelvo" broadcloth, the finest that is woven, and are priced far below the standard they command for eleven months in the year. Both neckband and collar-attached styles—tailored carefully from this lustrous, long-lived broadcloth that has no superior for appearance or serviceability. The size range—from 14 to 17—will take care of every man's stature, and the notably low Main Floor Day price will be an inducement worth your immediate shopping attention!

144 Knox Straw Hats

If you really care to be properly impressed with these values, let this convince you: This price is IDENTICAL with our normal wholesale price for hats of this quality! The quantity is limited to the above figure—it is imperative that you make your choice early to-morrow, for these will hardly last a full day's selling! All sizes, of course.

Men's Athletic Union Suits 2.00 "Cavalier" Brand

95c

The very types, the actual summer weights, towards which men turn for Summer comfort! Made of fine English broadcloth and genuine soiesettes in the V-neck style that lessens the discomfort of extremely hot weather. Arm holes are taped—and they're tacked for service's sake—elastic ribbed inserts in the backs promise ease of movement. One-button seat, closed crotch—sizes 34 to 50.

Men's New Ties 16 Plain Shades

95c

If you were to select these at any other time of the year, you'd pay 1.50 each or more. Anniversary time, and Main Floor Day of course, provide a saving that men who buy their accessories carefully cannot ignore.

Special Purchase of Men's Hose 4,320 Pairs—Usually 50c

29c

Smart and new...and in a fine variety of the shade combinations that are recognized as smart...here is another offering for men that suggests the purchase of a quantity. If you're looking for service, reinforcements of toes and heels tell you this is your choice. If you're looking for correctness, a glance at the array here will convince you quickly. And the special price urges choice to-morrow!

THE CONSTANT FLAME

A Fair Maid Meets Love In Strange Surroundings

by WINIFRED VAN DUZER

Marty Passed in Law, Goes Into Judge Morrow's Office to Practice

BUT that, she would tell herself, could not be. Only a dream it was; one of those radiant dreams that never come true.

So she would fill the jars that cluttered the shop with the flowers feeling rather restless and protesting.

She never carried a blossom home; never slipped one between the pages of a book. She enjoyed their beauty, but they inspired her with no sentiment.

Marty had taken to wandering in occasionally, often mornings when she was likely to be alone. He would glance at two or three bouquets standing about and nod in an amused way.

"I see frail Percival's been saying it with flowers," he would observe as if sharing a rare joke.

"That will do, Marty. And the next time you follow me I'm going to keep it to myself."

"Thinking of telling him?" With a pleased grin.

"Because a man has decent manners doesn't mean he'll be imposed on."

His voice was edged now. "I don't mind your playing around, Em. He's harmless enough. But don't forget I'm taking good care of what's mine!"

He had an odd ability to make her angry. "Go away!" she flung at him. "Go out and fine Anne. She seems to like you!"

"Jealous! That's great!" And he went out, laughing.

He came late one evening and threw himself into the porch swing. "I passed the exams. Em. I'm a lawyer now."

"Why, that's wonderful, Marty. Doing it all yourself—a splendid thing."

"Said I'd show them."

He was leaving for the Middle West, he told her. Job all ready when he came back.

"You won't have your private office? I thought lawyers always wanted to start in for themselves," she said, thinking of what Kent had told her long ago.

"That's uphill. It's better to go in with the right crowd. The Judge is the one for me."

She looked at him quickly kindling with astonishment. "The Judge? You're going to work for Judge Morrow?"

"With him," rather haughtily. "That surprise you, Em? Why?"

She didn't know exactly. She believed now that Morrow controlled politics in the county and perhaps in a section of the state. Frances had told her this in a curt, disgusted tone. Boss Morrow . . .

Probably he thought Marty a bright young fellow, as indeed he was, and wished new blood in his office. Red blood. Or perhaps Anne had asked her father to make a place for him.

Judge Morrow was fond of his daughter, everybody said. His one weakness, it was.

Had Marty understood that and deliberately become friendly with Anne because of it? Would any man use a girl's interest in him to further his way toward success?

She had been rather proud of Marty once. She had seen him as one climbing every sort of obstacle toward high achievement, one growing great and honorable as he fought upward.

This vision of him wavered and dimmed now; she felt rather weary and rather resentful, as if she had been defrauded.

"Don't see why you're so surprised. I'm not exactly a liability, you know."

"Of course not, Marty. I'm sure you'll be a success. She resolved to give him the benefit of the doubt. She had no right to judge him. Perhaps, after all, Anne had sought him instead of it being the other way about. "They'll say you're in the party machine," she told him, laughing.

She expected an emphatic denial but he made no reply. She didn't know, of course, that old Tim had said the same thing a few hours before.

"So ye'll be steppin' wit' the gang, me lad? Think ye've got the world b' the leg but better not forget till keep an eye out. They're slick."

Marty had nodded and locked his gaze with the old blue one. "I'll not forget."

Emily walked with him down the steps. "Good luck, Marty. I'll be wishing it for you."

He crushed her hand and would have drawn her to him but she moved back. He hesitated a moment, head down; then he went away slowly down the street.

Afterward she remembered it was the first time in months he had said nothing about his intention of marrying her some day.

CHAPTER XXXII.

A WEEK or two later Emily put a new clipping into the Japanese box.

The Lyall Star printed a picture of Kent; a blured and unflattering likeness which didn't look much like anyone, really.

But she thought it marvelous; with a warm, gentle flush gliding over her she studied the features—the proud tilt to the head, the frank young eyes, the beautifully chiseled lips. Rather grave they were in the picture; not laughing as in the old days.

The story said Kent had come home to live after years at school and abroad. He had passed his bar examination with honors and expected to open an office in Lyall.

So Anne didn't know after all, Emily told herself exultantly. He was coming back—coming here to live—to open an office like any young country lawyer, trying to work his way up. Different from Marty who wished to "play with the right crowd."

Oh, he'd succeed! So brave, so very fine! She was enormously proud of him.

And she was in an ecstasy the next day when the Item printed a half page editorial suggesting Mr. Kent Rossiter for district attorney.

"What we need," ran the article, "is someone with the courage to defy boss rule in this county. A man of sincere purpose and unquestioned integrity; a crusader.

"The name of Rossiter always has stood for honor in this community.

"That he is young—barely 25—is no argument against his ability.

"This newspaper, in accordance with its policy of fair play, submits to the voters the name of Kent Rossiter for the office of district attorney at the fall elections."

A crude piece of writing it was but it might have been done in fire so brilliant did it seem to Emily.

HE SHOULD BE A FRIEND OF YOURS

Wouldn't you like to drive to the office in the morning and speak thusly to your favorite "traffic cop" when he beams upon you—as though nothing ever happened to make him angry!—passing: "Good morning, Officer Rafferty"—or else, yell "Hi Teddy!" Well, The Sun Tele's series, "Traffic Cops," will tell you how. This fellow today may be found downtown, but don't spend the day hunting for him when The Sun-Tele will tell you his name tomorrow.

YESTERDAY'S "TRAFFIC COP" WAS C. H. GREGG, 1203 FEDERAL STREET, WHO HAS BEEN A CORNERMAN FOR SEVEN OF HIS 18 YEARS IN POLICE SERVICE. HE IS IN CHARGE OF SITUATION AT FEDERAL AND LACOCK STREETS, NORTH SIDE.

SMITH DESCRIBED AS NEW LINCOLN

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN,
International News Service.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—"Victory is his habit—the happy warrior!"

With this prophetic characterization, the name of Gov. Alfred E. Smith was presented to the Democratic National Convention last night by one of his closest personal friends and political allies, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It was the third time Roosevelt had placed Smith's name before the quadrennial assembly.

"The faith which I held, I still hold," he said, in recalling his eight years' fight to win the presidential nomination for the man who was the boy of the sidewalks of New York.

The speech was short, uttered in crisp, ringing sentences remarkably free of bombast and high oratory.

"Between him and the people is that subtle bond which makes him their champion and makes them enthusiastically trust him with their loyalty and their love."

Called New Lincoln

With that unadorned keynote, Roosevelt presented Smith as a new Lincoln and a new Wilson.

"It was Lincoln's human heart, and Woodrow Wilson's passionate desire to bring about the happiness of the whole world which will be best remembered by the historians."

Roosevelt followed the lead of the temporary chairman, Claude Bowers, in assailing "the crass materialism" of Republican prosperity, political corruption and spiritual lethargy in administrative leadership. There was no reference to prohibition, either in the exhaustive review of Smith's record or in the summary of the personal attributes which his friends deem mark him for high service to the party and nation.

"He is well called 'the pathfinder to the open road for all true lovers of humanity.' He has the honesty that hates hypocrisy and cannot live with concealment and deceit.

"Personal leadership is a fundamental of successful government. I do not mean the leadership of the band of good fellows and good schemers who followed President Harding, nor the purely perfunctory party loyalty which has part of the time in part of the country sustained the present Chief Executive. I mean that leadership which by sheer force of mind, by chain of unanswerable logic, has brought friends and foes alike to enact vitally needed measures of government reform.

Lauds Achievement

"His staunchest political adversaries concede the Governor's unique and unparalleled record of constructive achievement in the total reorganization of the machinery of government, in the businesslike management of state finance, in the enactment of a legislative program for the protection of men, women and children engaged in industry, in the improvement of the public health and in the attainment of the finest standard of public service in the interest of humanity. This he has accomplished by a personality of vibrant, many-sided appeal which has swept along with it a Legislature of a different political faith.

"As to the requisite of honesty: I do not mean an honesty that merely keeps a man out of jail, or an honesty that while avoiding personal smirch, hides the corruption of others. I speak of that honesty that demands faithfulness to the public trust in every public servant, that honesty which takes immediate action to correct abuse.

"The voting public of the nation is fully wise enough to compare the ethical standards of official Albany with those of official Washington.

Eight Gray Years

"The soul of our country, lulled by mere material prosperity, has passed through eight gray years. Our people must not acquiesce in the easy thought of being mere passengers so long as the drivers and mechanics do not disturb our comfort. We must be concerned over our destination, not merely satisfied that the passing scenery is pleasant to the eye. We must be interested in whether that national destination be heaven or hell and not content that the man at the wheel has assured us that we shall there find a full bank account and a soft bed.

"In an era of the ready-made we must not accept ready-made government; in a day of high-powered advertising we must not fall for the false statements of the most highly organized propaganda ever developed by the owners of the Republican Party. We do not want to change these United Sovereign States of America into the 'United States, Incorporated,' with a limited and self-perpetuating board of directors and no voting power in the common stockholders.

"America needs not only an administrator, but a leader—a pathfinder, a blazer of the trail to the highroad that will avoid the bottomless morass of crass materialism that has engulfed so many of the great civilizations of the past.

"It is the privilege of democracy not only to offer such a man but to offer him as the surest leader to victory. To stand upon the ramparts and die for our principles is heroic, to sally forth to battle and win for our principles is something more than heroic. We offer one who has the will to win—who not only deserves success but commands it. Victory is his habit—the happy warrior, Alfred E. Smith."

TRAIN HITS TRUCK: ONE DEAD, ONE HURT

BRIDGEPORT, O., June 28.—Peter Stanchina, of Wheeling Creek, was killed and his brother, Joe Stanchina and Fred Devault, were injured when their auto truck was struck by a passenger train today.

DANCES GO TOWARD 500 HRS.

Keeping pace with Milt Crandall's New York dance marathon, where the dollars are said to be literally rolling in, three Negro couples meandered through their four hundred and twenty-first hour of maple tapping in Motor Square Garden at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with only a handful of spectators to urge them on to a still greater local record. The Negroes are running three hours behind the New York time, but they are far ahead of the 303-hour record established in the Academy Theater. Last night's attendance, it was admitted, was very small, but the dancers shuffled along, hoping that the cash would flow in at the door to reward them at the end of their third week.

A different scene was enacted at Duquesne Garden, where nine couples at 2 o'clock this afternoon began their three hundred and fifty-fourth hour. Last night the management presented each of the heofers with a check for $50, and other checks were presented to some of the dancers by individuals and firms. The Craig street derby continues to draw well.

Twenty-one couples were shuffling in the newest of local dance marathons in Stahl's Gardens, Homestead, at 2 o'clock, when they passed their forty-second hour.

Five couples remained out of 20 starting on the fourth day of the marathon at Wilmerding.

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 28.—Seven couples and one individual completed 253 hours of dancing at the local marathon at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Romeo Marcella, of South Greensburg, who had been hoofing it alone since his partner dropped out, expected to pick up another partner, got tired of waiting for some other male to drop out and quit. Maury Hartman, Pittsburgh, is the individual and he still has hope.

DONORA, Pa., June 28.—Thirteen couples were well along on the fourth day of their non-stop marathon dance here today. One team dropped out during the night.

CRANDALL DENIES MUTINY

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, June 28.—At 9 o'clock this morning nine couples continued in Milt Crandall's chase for $5,000 in the dance derby here, after completing 411 hours. Who will be the first couple to drop out is a big question, but the three Pittsburgh teams say it will not be they. Cries of "mutiny" and that the winner was in the "bag" have been offset by statements by Crandall. Several New York papers have been playing up the fact that the couples remaining on the floor will strike and all go out at the same time. However, Crandall, after visiting each team, reported that they were all satisfied and would continue until a winner was made.

Eddie Leonard last night issued the following statement as he came off the floor for a rest with Marianne Jacques:

"We are not asking for any extra money from Mr. Crandall. Don't believe any talk you hear about a strike for $100 a day. Mr. Crandall was away in the hole a few days ago. If the tide had not turned, we would not have been asked to make up the deficit. Why should we demand any share of the profits? I would rather drop dead than quit."

"So would I," said Marianne. "Mr. Crandall is a straight shooter."

Crandall, Pyle Unite Their Forces

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, June 28.—The promoter of the present Bunion derby here and the recent Bunion footrace from Los Angeles to New York, have consolidated—this became known last night when Milton D. Crandall, Pittsburgh promoter, now conducting the dancers derby and Charles C. Pyle, promoter of the cross-country race, signed an agreement for one year.

The Pyle-Crandall promotions will start immediately following the dance derby and marathon ball. The terms of the agreement call for a 50-50 split.

Pyle will sail for Europe Friday and immediately make arrangements for an endurance dance exhibition in Paris, England and Berlin.

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

by HAVEY J. BOYLE

PASSING a reservoir, a little girl asked what that was. It was explained that from that reservoir a great many of us got our water. She wanted to know, then, noting that the water was not heated, where we got our hot water. She was anxious to see the hot water reseervoir. And the question, it seemed here, might easily start a great municipal innovation. If the municipality finds it cheaper to collect taxes and serve cold water, why wouldn't it be a forward move to have the municipality furnish the water not as well? It would take a great load off the average housewife. For, instead of being forced to answer a baleful look when the water at home is not hot, she could simply advise: "Write your complaint to City Council." Easily, a man might run for Mayor on a platform, whose main plank called for hot water in every home.

The idea is not so fantastic as another scheme that was broached to a group of Pittsburgh investors by a dreamer who thought in the old days he could cut down the cost of beer delivery. It was his idea that the beer from the breweries could be piped and run into those homes that wanted beer as well as into the saloons, which, at the time, had their beer deliveries in clumsy affairs called kegs. His scheme never got very far because cold-hearted bankers refused to put up the capital necessary. The conservative bankers had an idea that having the city underlined with beer pipes might not be the wonderful thing the feverish promoter thought it was.

IN AUTHORIZING the expenditure of some $43,000,000 for public improvements the community bought itself more good roads, more bridges, an airport, and a town hall. The community also paved the way for the employment of more men. A good idea of what this means may be obtained if you read Mr. Shaw's last will and testament to the public, his book: "An Intelligent Woman's Guide to Socialism and Capitalism." He doesn't ask you to agree with him. He simply asks you to think up some better way of doing things.

Pittsburgh recently played host to two of the finest gentlemen connected with baseball. One was John Arnold Heydler, president of the National League, who at one time was a printer, and the other was Cullen Cain, who disseminates baseball information for the public press on behalf of his league. Mr. Heydler is elected to his post by eight club presidents. These he must try to satisfy and that the job is not an easy one may be gleaned from the fact that these eight men have eight separate ideas of right and wrong. Mr. Heydler makes this hurdle by being fair and honest. There are times when someone threatens vengeance on his head because of a ruling that hurts, but he usually cools off, or is told to cool off by his colleagues who know what a hard time Mr. Heydler has. Mr. Heydler is head of the most unique and extra-legal, and private government in the world, which is baseball government.

IN JOHNSTOWN the other night we saw a former Pittsburgher walking into a boxing show. There was no particular stir. But let him walk into a boxing show in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago or Pittsburgh and there would be craned necks to get a peep at him, for his fame is wide. His name is Charles M. Schwab. In Johnstown he is considered a neighbor, a townsman, rather than a world-famed celebrity. It was strange to see the lack of stir when you consider that he was the man who sold the idea of the United States Steel Corporation to J. P. Morgan. We have read that he is considered the best salesman the world has ever known.

TWO STOLEN IDOLS

by FRANK L. PACKARD

WHAT HAS GO[illegible]EFORE

The body of Tom Kingsley is picked up by Capt. "Scarface" Sweeney and his mate, Marlow, off Singapore. Tom's brother, Robert, also an old "sea dog," is notified of the death and receives articles found on the corpse. Among these are two small but handsomely carved Ivory Idols. Robert Kingsley has good reason to believe that Hsi Yan, an ancient enemy, has returned after 30 years to seek vengeance. The Idols are stolen and Young Bob starts out to recover them. After many adventures Bob and Verna Lyle are both prisoners at Richardson's plantation. The Malay whom Bob had rescued plans Verna's and Bob's escape. Bob, still bound, is carried to safety by the Malay. Bob plans to leave Verna with friends in Kalawa. Bob finds one Idol and discovers it holds a message in cypher. He starts for Singapore determined to solve the mystery. He visits Java Dick and meets old friends where he finds out many things of unusual interest.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

BOB KINGSLEY let his head sink down upon the table. He had been right then, in his belief that Chen-shu would not overlook so ready and easy a means of getting away from Aoru as was afforded by the presence there of that small schooner which Nanu had seen. Chen-shu and his lot were here in Singapore—and had probably reached here even ahead of the Alita. His own detour to touch at Kalawa would account for that, of course.

His brows furrowed. He hadn't looked for this. This put an entirely different perspective on what he had proposed to do here to-night in Java Dick's. Or did it? Wasn't it, above all else, a guarantee of success? Unbounded luck, as a matte of fact? How could he better insure Verna's safety? If Won Fu saw the idol, that began and ended the matter so far as Verna was concerned. There wouldn't be anything problematical about the tale of it reaching the right source. The source, or an integral part of it, was here—now. From that angle, then, he could not afford to let Won Fu's presence in any way change his plans. The only difference was that Java Dick as a pawn was no longer a necessity. Java Dick wasn't needed any more in order to relay unwittingly the significance of the idol to this scum around the table. There wasn't any bait needed any more, either, to lure the Singapore end of the gang out into the open. Chen-shu was back—that was enough! Verna first then—and afterwards Chen-shu! And Java Dick, while no longer a factor for the moment might be able to help in that latter respect; Java Dick might know, or, if he chose, find out a lot about Chen-shu's airs, and who those others were who once had formed the crew of Hsi Yan's junk. But that was for afterwards!

Bob Kingsley's drunken stupor appeared to be passing off. He raised his head, and, with blinkings eyes stared up the table. Won Fu was only five or six places away; and Bob Kingsley, though he did not look at the Chinaman, was conscious that the other had drawn back a little, and from behind the shoulders of a Negrito in the front rank was staring in his direction. But Bob Kingsley gave no sign that he was aware of Won Fu's presence—he appeared now in his partially revived state to be giving his entire, if befuddled, attention to the game. Suddenly he staggered to his feet, and leaned out over the table.

"Going to make a real bet!" he announced portentiously, and tugged at his hand, which seemed to have stuck fast in his trouser's pocket. "Bleed the blooming bank white! Show you how! Roll your mable and let her ride! I'm Black Bob Kingsley and—"

CHAPTER XL

HIS hand came away with an extra tug and a violent jerk from his pocket—and, with the jerk, a fistful of money and the little white ivory god flew helter-skelter over the table. With a yell of dismay, Bob Kingsley flung himself in a sprawl upon the table after the idol—and, as he sprawled, he saw Won Fu lean suddenly forward, and in Won Fu's face he saw for the first time an Oriental startled out of his habitual phlegm. Bob Kingsley grasped the idol—but let it slip from his fingers, and permitted it to drop on the floor. And then, pushing everybody in his way madly aside, he was down on the floor after it. The idol rolled under the table, and, on hands and knees, crawling frantically, he followed it, and snatched it up.

He came out from beneath the table in undignified and none too agile a fashion, and, as he rose to his feet and stood there for a moment swaying unsteadily, the natives around the table laughed, and some of them flung a gibe at him. In a vacuous and silly way he smiled back at them—but, as he stood there blinking foolishly, out of the corner of his eye he caught sight of Won Fu scurrying from the room.

The play was over!

In ten minutes, or half an hour—he had no means of knowing which—Won Fu would be back here with Chan-shu and enough of his felonious crowd to overrun Java Dick's if necessary. Black Bob Kingsley, drunk, and in a dive where there was no chance of police interference—and with the idol in his possession! Were there even ten minutes? It was time to get out! The odds were a bit too heavy to stage the next move here tonight!

Apparently too crestfallen to give any heed to the money he had scattered with so much bluster on the table, Bob Kingsley staggered across the room, and out through the door into Tao Lin's presence.

"Where you going?" demanded Tao Lin. "Java Dick hasn't come yet, but he'll be here soon."

"Don't—hic!—give a damn!" said Bob Kingsley sheepishly. "Had enough!"

Tao Lin made some reply, but Bob Kingsley did not catch it—he was already stepping out into the black alleyway. The next instant the door closed behind him, and, as a whining voice bade him goodnight, he lurched away.

From the mouth of the alleyway he emerged into a fairly well-lighted, and by no means deserted street—and here he halted abruptly. Under the street lamp, not more than two or three yards away, he saw the squat, almost dwarf-like figure of Java Dick coming toward him.

Another little bit of luck! He had intended for his own purposes to make a confidant of Java Dick, and, while, as things had turned out, that was no longer a necessity in one sense, Java Dick was, as he had already decided, a prospective ally that was not to be despised. If he had dared risk it, he would have waited back there for Java Dick's return. There was a lot of information that no one was better able to supply than this unsaintly Lord of the Native Underworld—if he would!

MR. PHWEN WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THE NEW MAN THAT IS GOING TO BE HERE THIS SUMMER ?
NEW MAN ! NEW MAN ! WHAT DO YOU WANT WITH A NEW MAN. HAVENT YOU GOT US? HAVENT YOU ?
YOU'VE GOT ARAB AND HIS BROTHER AND NOISY AND ME. WHAT MORE DO YOU WANT ? HAVENT YOU?
WHAT I WANT IS A LITTLE INTELLECTUAL COMPANIONSHIP THAT'S ALL !

"My dear, I'm ALL-of-a-BIB-and TUCKer, no less—I mean I ACtually AM, because I HONestly think it's TERribly hard on anybody coming to TOWN like this new MAN and not KNOWing anybody, because apPARently, my dear, he doesn't know a SOUL and I ACtually think we ought to DO something about it at this point, my dear, because I REALly think he ought to MEET some attractive PEOPLe, don't YOU? Well, ANYways, I'm so MAD I could BITE because the ATtitude of these youths in TOWN about anybody NEW who COMES here and is the LEAST bit inTRIguing simply SLAYS me, my dear, because they just act terribly JEALous of anybody like that, my dear, which is an AWfully NAR-row-minded kind of attitude to TAKE, I think. I mean, f'r instance I was discussing the situation with that SEPtic PHWHEN person the other day, my dear, and he was SIMply FOUL about it because he seemed to have the IDEA that when I INQUIRED if he KNEW this man I was PERsonally INT'rested or something—can you BEAR it, my dear? ANYways, he said what did I WANT with a new MAN at this point, when I had HIM and ARab and ARab's BROTHer and NOIsy! HONestly, my dear, did you EVer in your LIFE hear ANYthing so SELFish, sort of? Well, I was ACtually SEETHing with SPLEEN at this point and I told him PERfectly FRANKly that what I wanted was a little intelLECTual comPANionship, because I mean I HONestly think that's the ONE thing a girl who's really in TELLigent and all CRAVES from a man, my dear—I mean I ACtually DO!"

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge Has a Session With Her Young Son

I HEARD an odd, regularly recurring series of thumps as I neared the door of Junior's room. He had been sent there by Katherine with the injunction to "think things over" while he waited for me to decide what punishment he was to receive for running away. I knew that she followed my rule of permitting him neither books nor toys while he was thus "on punishment," and my curiosity was strong as I pushed open the door.

He was turning somersaults, coming down with a thump at each revolution. At my entrance he brought himself suddenly to an upright position.

"I was just doing my exercises," he explained glibly, but I looked at him steadily with the quizzical little smile which I reserve for his occasional equivocation.

"Suppose you think that over a minute," I told him. "Are you sure you were turning somersaults for exercise?"

His face reddened and he shuffled uneasily, but he did not drop his eyes. I have always thanked my particular little joss for the frank steady gaze with which Junior meets reproof or comment which embarrasses him.

"Naw, I was doing 'em for fun," he said explosively.

What Dicky terms "the schoolma'am itch" stirred within me at his diction and inflections, but I sternly curbed the impulse for correction and took up the more important problem. I was hampered, however, as I always am in my dealings with my small son, by an irresistible desire for laughter.

"That's much better," I said. "But don't you think you've been rather disobedient to Aunt Katherine? What did she tell you when she sent you in here?"

"Not to touch my toys or books," he returned promptly, "and I didn't—'cept—I s'pose my hands and my feet are toys when I use 'em for fun—are they?"

"They certainly are," I told him, "and if you're sure you can remember that the next time you're on punishment, we won't say anything more about it now."

"Gee! You bet your boots—sure—" in his relief he tried all his censorable phrases, finally contenting himself with an innocuous "Of course, I'll remember."

"Very well, that's settled," I said; my risibles interfering materially with my desire for effective discipline. "Now before I tell you what your punishment is to be ,I want you to know the reason for it."

Into Junior's eyes came the look which every mother knows, an unconscious registering of a dislike for reasons. "Go ahead, get it over with," the look challenged me, but rightly or wrongly, I cling to the theory that as soon as they are old enough children should be given reasons for their punishments and their rewards.

"When you were a baby," I began, "you had to stay in your crib. Then each year, as you grew older, you were given more room, until now you have almost this whole farm for your play. This summer when someone was watching, you have been permitted to go as far as Mrs. Ticer's. But now that I find you cannot be trusted to remember your bounds, I'm going to forbid you going any farther than our barn without someone with you. If you obey that rule cheerfully for a week, perhaps I'll give you your privileges back again."

My son winked his eyes doggedly to keep back his tears.

"I'd rather have a lickin'," he said.

"I know, but you'd forget that more quickly," I returned. "You're off punishment. Go and wash up for luncheon."

He walked obediently to the door, then turned abruptly and looked up at me intently. I knew that look. A question suddenly had flashed into his active, inquisitive brain, and he would not be satisfied until it was answered.

"Say! mother!" he demanded. "Is this stayin' in the yard for a week one of the flyin' rocky things what daddy says you're like?"

Size Doesn't Make the Wife, Says Fay King

SHE LOOKED LIKE A CHILD-WIFE, BUT HER SIX-FOOT, TWO HUNDRED POUND HUSBAND WAS SCARED OF HER!
THE MOST HELPLESS CHILD-LIKE GIRL I EVER KNEW WAS FAT, FIVE-FEET-EIGHT AND WEIGHED A HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SEVEN POUNDS
SHE WAS TALL, WILLOWY AND BEAUTIFUL, BUT OH SO LAZY!
FAY-KING

By FAY KING

FILMS, fiction, and the stage have educated us to look for certain types in certain roles.

All heroines must be beautiful. All heroes must be handsome. But in real life it is not always so.

The girl with the baby face and figure is often the master of the home, while her tall, handsome husband is more scared of her than the little man is of his buxom wife.

I knew a tiny woman once who, like Peter Pan, never seemed to grow up. What chance could her big 200-pound husband have convincing any judge that his wife abused him? But she did.

Little women can be veritable Simon Legrees when it comes to cracking the whip and driving 6-foot husbands.

Now, in real life, I have known a number of these tall, willowy, gorgeous-to-behold-creatures.

Much of their poise and calm beauty was, in reality, just pure laziness. One such gorgeous creature I knew was so busy all day dolling herself up, her home was always untidy, and her husband half starved. She never had a meal ready on time.

It is a mistake to think only little girls and languid girls are childlike and helpless. The most helpless and really childlike girl I ever knew was tall and fat. It was not pose or pretense, with her; she was truly a child at heart and guileless and utterly dependent upon those around her.

Don't Be "Skinny" and Unattractive

Build Up Weight in 3 Weeks with New Combination of YEAST and IRON—or Pay Nothing

"I Gained 10 Pounds"

"For over a year I had no energy or ambition. My complexion was muddy, I could not sleep at night. I fell off in weight until I was but a shadow of my former self. After taking one treatment of IRONIZED YEAST I feel like a new woman. My complexion has cleared up wonderfully. I have gained 10 pounds, and I am full of energy."—(Mrs.) M. B., Chicago, Ill.

It seems incredible how fast IRONIZED YEAST adds pounds of good firm flesh—on women and men, children and old people. Doctors know the value of vegetable iron and yeast in building up and improving the body. IRONIZED YEAST, in a highly concentrated form, contains all the blood-building properties of vegetable iron with yeast.

New Complexion for You

People ask—what is the magic in IRONIZED YEAST that transforms sallow, lifeless, faded complexions into the fresh, smooth, lovely skin of girlhood? Wrinkles vanish. Eyes renew the sparkle of youth. Hollows fill out.

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured yeast concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening value of Yeast. That's why IRONIZED YEAST works so quickly. So get a generous test treatment—nice, tasty tablets, in a handy bottle. No nasty, pasty taste. Do not cause gas or bloating. Safe for everybody—containing no harmful drugs.

Get Lovely, Admired Curves

Try It on "Money-Back" Offer

Go to any drug store and get a full size treatment. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with effect, ask for your money back. It will be refunded immediately. If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.00 to the IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 319-PO.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having weight increased to normal.—© I. Do Unto Your Hands As You Would Have Them Do Unto You.

By Edna Wallace Hopper

How many times it is said that a woman's hands betray her age. If this is true, start right now the pleasurable game of betraying your hands. The real truth behind the saying is that your hands will be kind to you if you show them a little consideration. It is simple.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

I know that my hands have responded marvelously to it. Every time I wash them, in my theater dressing room or at the hotel, I promptly counteract the effect of soap and water by rubbing on briskly my Youth Hand Lotion.

This is a wonderful treat to the skin. Even the first application will show you. Your skin will absorb the lotion as quickly as a plant consumes moisture after the rainfall. It leaves your hands smooth and dry, and you can put on gloves immediately after using. Soft, white, lovely hands will be yours. You will realize how much your skin needs this soothing attention.

Always keep a bottle on your dressing table or bathroom shelf. And most of all you need one where you work—whether your daily tasks are in the home or elsewhere.

Convention Day by Day

By

O. O. M'INTYRE

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.

THE fun of this convention has been getting in and out of hotel where most of the newspapermen are housed. Every inch of space in its halls and lobbies is packed with humanity. The only way I was able to get into an elevator this morning was to turn to my wife with "I don't care what the doctor says." I know I haven't smallpox. We rode down alone with a tall and shaking elevator girl.

But in spite of all the press there is a delightful air of rare good humor. In New York we shin, kick, elbow, jab and snarl, but here if you step on a stranger's foot he anticipates you with "that's all right, partner."

There are a few picturesque touches of the old primitive days in Texas on Houston's streets. Now and then some hilarous whooppee artists yanks out his shooter and blazes away in the air. He means no harm, just playful. But we Easterners proceed to cover a city block in nothing flat. Not exactly frightened, just cautious. Many nibby birds who have struck along just to see what a shooting fiesta is all about have limped around the rest of their lives with puckered strings.

At dinner last night I sat between Mrs. Genevieve Clark Thomson, daughter of the late Champ Clark and wife of a New Orleans publisher, and William Allen White. It was a Mexican dinner and as hot as a sixshooter. Mrs. Thomson and Mr. White went the whole distance, but at the fourth entry I rushed out in search of a fire alarm box. That sort of a dinner is a good substitute for a tonsil operation and if I have a sliver of a palate left I am not kicking. After dinner we all rode out to River Oaks, a beautiful suburban development here which gave an excellent idea of how the well-to-do Houstonians live. The estates compared favorably with many of the show places on Long Island.

There is a community zeal about Houston that has made it one of the finest cities in the Southwest. Five years ago, after one of my annual visits to this city I wrote "Watch Houston." That gives you a rough idea of how you must watch my stuff to know what is going on. Now I am going to expand that prediction to watch Texas. And I am not at all fearful of taking up too much territory in visits to Houston.

I have often mentioned Slim, one of Houston's best known characters. He is still here. Slim is a sort of male guardian of a stool and counter lunch serving wisecracks with short orders. If laughing helps digestion Slim is a gift to the world.

They are still predicting when the convention will be over. The best advice for the folks back home is to expect us when you see us. Once a convention gets into a snarl it is like a kitten in a ball of yarn. Time and patience are needed. F. J. Murphy and Charlie Adam from my New York office—not exactly mine but I have desk room there—are preparing to send for their wives and another shirt apiece, so one never knows. I am learning to live in a truck. I was not assigned to a room here, it is just a crevice and it is necessary to lean out the window to shave. Visitors who walk in have to back out. There is no turning room. Several times I have called up the assistant manager but the moment his 'phone rings he pulls a Henry M. Stanley.

And just to pout a little, the newspapermen have been shown no consideration whatever in accommodations. The spiral has been kind, but the arrangement committee has not been on the job. Also the clerks and others associated with one Houston hotel in particular should absorb just a little of the sense of hospitality that makes Texas great.

* * *

In many years of knocking about the world, I have never met such impertinance on the part of a hotel as is accorded by some of them here. That is not quite fair to Houston, which has given so much of its time and money to make this affair the success it is. A hotel clerk can do more for the good of his town in meeting visitors than the mayor.

JUVENILE JAIL BREAKER AGAIN BEHIND BARS

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 28.—Edgar McNeely, 15, of Lancaster, O., one of the three boys who escaped from the Juvenile Court detention rooms here by pushing Mrs. Mary Morrison, assistant matron, into a small closet and locking the door, was brought back to Washington this evening and placed in the county jail because of his ugly mood. He had been arrested for stealing a horse and saddle. Thurman Zonker and Robert Mowry, West Virginia youths who escaped at the same time, made their way to Wheeling, McNeely said. The West Virginia boys are paroled from the State prison at Moundsville.

Astringent
Closes enlarged pores—refines skin texture.

Heals
Quickly clears away all skin blemishes.

Protects
Ideal base for powder—protects skin.

UNKNOWN a few years ago—today probably the most talked-of, most enthusiastically recommended toilet cream in the country!

The strangest and most fascinating fact about it is that originally it was not even intended to be a beauty cream. Physicians first prescribed Noxzema Skin Cream as a soothing and healing remedy for chapping, burns, eczema and other skin troubles.

To nurses goes the credit for first discovering its amazing value as a toilet cream—as a beauty treatment for clearing, softening and refining the skin. Finding it wonderfully beneficial to their hands, they began using this dainty, snow-white healing cream on their faces—as a powder base and as a massage at night before retiring.

They found that its gentle medication cleansed the pores thoroughly—healed away all beauty-destroying blemishes, coarseness and roughness—acted like a skin tonic, correcting all oiliness or dryness, stimulating the skin to new healthy glowing loveliness. Largely through their recommendation, over 4,000,000 women now use Noxzema.

If you want a softer, healthier, lovelier complexion, make this simple test. Take advantage of the offer explained below—use Noxzema 10 days—during the day and at night—then see how much clearer, finer, more beautiful your skin has become. Get a trial jar today.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Pittsburgh's Advance Guard Already Established in Summer Homes Along Seashore

SOME of our local society folks have already opened their summer homes and are well established for the season, but the majority are not planning to leave the city for a week or two. The Richard B. Mellons, for instance, and their son, Richard King Mellon, are going to Watch Hill early in July to occupy their beautiful summer estate, "Sunshine." And by the way, an addition has recently been made to the already spacious proportions of the Mellon summer home, which is set on one of the many hills which make up the whole territory around Watch Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellon, I understand, are charter members of the new Watch Hill Riding and Polo Club which will open its premier season this week-end. Sixty saddle horses have been brought to the Hill to travel the 15 miles of bridle paths laid out through the hills surrounding the resort.

I have already told you about the Harry Darlingtons having opened their home, "Longshore," at Watch Hill, but perhaps you didn't know that Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederic Byers are already at "Cedarhurst," and that the Simon Pattersons, who have been occasional visitors at the Hill in other years, have taken "Red Top," the former summer home of Hon. and Mrs. Truman H. Newberry, of Grosse Point Farms, Mich. They are there now, too.

The Thruston Wrights are expecting to go on to Watch Hill some time this week, I believe. They will, of course, occupy their place, "Road's End," for the season. And I understand that the Louis W. Dalzells have already gone on to the Hill and have opened their villa, "Belvedute," which overlooks the Atlantic.

The William C. Robinson summer place, "East Dunes," has been opened, I hear, but the family has not gone East yet. Their children, Mary, Althea, Alexander Laughlin and William C. Robinson, Jr., will, of course, be with them during the season. The Roy Arthur Hunts haven't gone on yet, either, but they are planning to leave quite soon, I believe, to open "Lyon Cottage," which they have occupied for the past several years. Their sons, Alfred Mortimer, Torrence, Richard and Roy Arthur, Jr., were among the most active boys' club workers last year.

Another local family which will go on to the Hill early next month are the Thomas H. Eddys, of Squirrel Hill avenue. Their summer place is "Samoset on Meadow Lane."

PERHAPS the subject of age is a rather delicate one, but I don't believe anyone will mind if I suggest that the workers for the dog show to be held on Saturday seem to be divided, roughly, into three or four groups, according to their distance from debutante-dom. The woman's auxiliary to the Allegheny General Hospital, which is sponsoring the Sewickley Kennel Club's show this year, you know, is being assisted, it appears, not only by some of the younger set who have been "out" for three or four years, but also by the junior auxiliary. These latter girls won't be making their debut for four or five years, and this show is one of the few public affairs at which they have helped their mothers and older sisters.

Among these junior aides is Betty McKay, who is a daughter of the Thomas J. McKays, of Morewood avenue. Peggy Milligan, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Milligan, of Irwin avenue, North Side, is another aide. Mrs. Milligan, you know, is on the refreshment committee. Mary Robinson, daughter of the William C. Robinsons, of the North Side and Sewickley Heights, and her cousin, Madelaine Alexander, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Maitland Alexander, of Ridge avenue and Sewickley Heights, will help, too, and so will Anne and Margaret Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rose, of Sewickley. Among the other girls are Rosamond Fitch and Hester Harton Browne, of Sewickley; Katherine Frazer, daughter of the John G. Frazers, of Amberson avenue; Frances Kier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Kier, of Beechwood boulevard, and Lucretia Billings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Tremaine Billings, of Wallingford street.

THE marriage of Mary Gertrude Clifford, daughter of Mrs. M. J. Clifford, of Mt. Washington, and Ross B. Hudson was solemnized yesterday at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's of the Mount Catholic Church. They will make their home in Sheraden.

AT a bridge luncheon given Monday in their home, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lamborne, of Montier street, Wilkinsburg, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss M. Grace Lamborne, to Harvey R. Weston, of Wilkinsburg. No wedding date has been set.

THE marriage of Miss Catherine E. McGrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. McGrath, of Kingsboro street, and M. J. Pastorius, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Pastorius, was solemnized Tuesday in St. George's Church by the Rev. S. J. Schramm. Miss Margaret E. McGrath and Andrew F. Pastorius were the attendants, and the ushers included Damian R. McGrath and Thomas F. McGrath, Jr. Alice Crichley, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Mr. and Mrs. Pastorius are taking an eastern trip.

MISS BETTY LYONS, of Beacon street, will entertain with a bridge-luncheon tomorrow at the Edgewood Country Club in honor of Mrs. John W. Baugher, Jr., who will be remembered as Miss Virginia Hipple, and Miss Mary Thompson, of Edgewood, whose engagement to Austen Tombs, of New York, was announced in the early spring.

MISS KATHERINE REEBEL, of Jefferson drive, Mt. Lebanon, will entertain at dinner tonight in the George Washington Hotel, Washington, Pa., for the bridal party which will be in attendance tomorrow night at the double wedding of two sisters, Miss Elizabeth Hewitt, who will marry Ralph Holland, of Vandergrift, and Miss Alice Hewitt, who will become the bride of Julian Corey, of Detroit. The ceremony will be performed in Trinity Episcopal Church, Washington. Miss Isabel Epley, of Bartlett street, and Miss Reebel will be the maids of honor.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD THOMPSON, whose marriage was a quiet event of June 6, have returned from Bermuda and are at home in Wallingford street. Before her marriage Mrs. Thompson was Mrs. Maude Munroe Boggs, of Elgin avenue.

MISS LOUISE TICKNER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Tickner, of Pasadena, formerly of Pittsburgh, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. J. Gill, of Aspinwall, and Mrs. Christine Vogel, of Perrysville avenue. She left Tuesday night for Washington and will visit other eastern cities before going home by way of the Northwest, stopping at Banff, Lake Louise and Vancouver. She will go from Vancouver to Los Angeles by boat.

MISS MILDRED MORRISON ANDERSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Anderson, of Latrobe, has chosen Saturday, July 7, as the date for her marriage to Lieut. Harry Draper Hoffman, of Washington, D. C. A naval ceremony will be performed at 8 o'clock in the Latrobe Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Dr. William R. Craig officiating. Miss Laura Bissell, of Latrobe, entertained for Miss Anderson last Saturday, and on Monday Mrs. Herbert Briggs, Jr., of Bellevue, gave a bridge-luncheon.

* * *

DR. AND MRS. JAMES H. M'CORMICK, of Pittsburgh and Orlando, Fla., are motoring from Orlando this week and will go to their summer home at Lake Chautauqua for the season.

A BRIDGE LUNCHEON for the benefit of the clubhouse fund will be held Friday, July 6, by the Woman's Club of Crafton at the Food Craft Shop, Fifth avenue. An executive board meeting will follow luncheon and a musical program.

AT the reception with which the Hadassah convention will close on Saturday evening in the William Penn Hotel, Mrs. Caroline Himelblau, contralto, will present a program of Russian and Yiddish folk songs in costume. Mrs. Julius H. Cohen is chairman of the reception committee and Mrs. Moses Krieger, vice chairman.

UNDER auspices of the Women's Community Association of the Twenty-seventh Ward, community services will be held on Sunday evenings during July and August on the lawn of the Brighton Road Presbyterian Church, North Side. The Rev. Charles W. Fulton, pastor of the Eleventh United Presbyterian Church, will conduct the opening services at 7 o'clock next Sunday evening. At a meeting of the association in the Reformed Church of the Ascension on Monday, plans will be made for the picnic to be held in Walters Grove, North Park. Mrs. Walter McFarland is chairman of transportation; Mrs. William Moody, of grounds, and Mrs. N. J. Frank, of baskets.

EASTERN STAR CHAPTERS HONOR NEW STATE HEAD

FOUR hundred women, almost half of them from out of town, gathered yesterday in the William Penn Hotel to do honor to Mrs. Jane M. Roberts, the new worthy grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star in Pennsylvania. The occasion was a luncheon arranged by Mrs. Marci B. Apel, general chairman, assisted by Mrs. May G. Kagarise, Mrs. Fernada Frazier, Mrs. Margaret J. Davidson, Mrs. Grace Phillips and Mrs. Ella Steinhauser, all of whom are worthy matrons. There were toasts from the various chapters to the honor guest who was presented with a diamond ring set in platinum. A. S. Keller, of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke a few words in welcome to the 1929 O. E. S. convention which will be held in Syria Mosque the second week in June. Joseph N. Mackrell, a former potentate of Syria Shrine, also spoke briefly.

The program of entertainment was presented by Mrs. Maud Ingersoll and consisted of a series of what were termed "musical pictures," all the participants appearing in costume. Ellen Wilcox, contralto, did a number of old songs, accompanied by Lillian Bardoner, who was also accompanist for Grace Elcoate's old-fashioned soprano numbers. Irish songs were presented by Mary Graham, soprano; the Misses Kenney, in gypsy costumes, did piano and violin duets; Hazel Campbell offered a humorous reading; Frances Stickle's contribution was Indian songs. Dora Nepereny accompanying both her and Miss Graham; Delphine Heimert's songs called for Gypsy and Chinese costumes. Her accompanist was Harriet Werle and the program was concluded by Miss Wilcox's children's songs.

MRS. JOSEPH J. BROWN

"GOLDEN" YEAR

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Brown, Allison Park, observed their golden wedding year by renewing their marriage vows before the Rev. Thomas J. Bigham, rector Episcopal Church of the Advent, Brookline.

BOY FALLS DOWN HILL, FATHER SUES RAIL CO.

Claiming that the fence was not kept in proper repair, thus permitting his 3-year-old son, Charles Schachter, to fall 50 feet down the hill near the Corliss station, permanently injuring the child, William H. Schachter has brought suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for $25,000 damages. The accident occurred July 1, 1926, in the vicinity of Hillsboro street, and it is averred could not have happened had the company exercised proper precautions.

CANZONERI BEATEN BY BLITMAN

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—(AP.)—Harry Blitman, Philadelphia feather-weight, won the decision over Tony Canzoneri, of New York, champion of that division, in a 10-round bout at the Phillies Baseball Park last night. Blitman weighed 127½ pounds, Canzoneri 128. The title was not at stake.

Canzoneri left the ring a badly beaten champion, but since it had been agreed that both fighters should weigh in above the feather-weight limit, 126 pounds, he would not have lost his title even through a knockout.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Brooklyn—Johnny Risko defeated George Godfrey, 10 rounds; Benny Edel knocked out (technical) Mario Massy, 3 rounds; Billy Angelo and Jack McFarland drew, 6 rounds; Georgie Levine defeated Floyd Hybert, 8 rounds; Nando Tassi knocked out (technical) Wyoming Walker, 2 rounds.

At Philadelphia—Harry Blitman defeated Tony Canzoneri, 10 rounds; Eddie Shea defeated Rosy Stoy, 10 rounds; Johnny Erickson defeated Pinkie May, 10 rounds; Pat Haley defeated Mickey Martell, 10 rounds.

At Dayton, Ky.—Frankie Palma defeated Eddie Dempsey, 10 rounds; Howard Mitchell defeated Herman Clarke, 6 rounds.

At Eldorado, Ark.—Mickey Fedor defeated Battling Steele, 10 rounds.

GRAYS' HOMERS WIN

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., June 28.—Four home runs, three by Jap Washington and one by Leonard, enabled the Homestead Grays to defeat the Beaver Falls Elks here last evening, 9 to 4. The Elks batted out Oscar Owens in the eighth inning.

Tech Pair Tops Dukes

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN.

TWO aces of Carnegie Tech—B. P. Hoover, popular Tartan coach, and A. J. Glaser, clever Crafton youth, participating in the second tournament of his career—attained the men's doubles final in the fortieth annual Western Pennsylvania tennis championships by dint of brilliant team play against fast opposition on the courts of the Pittsburgh Golf Club yesterday. The Plaid pair broke into the title round by registering a 6-3, 6-0 semi-final triumph over Jake Olko and Andy Smeaton, accomplished Duke varsity duo, but their most signal claim to fame lies in their quarter-final victory at the expense of Marion Rinehart and Jack Lauler, slashing Stanton Heights-P. A. A. combine, whom they eliminated by an impressive 6-1, 7-5 margin. Hoover and Glaser will encounter on Sunday the survivor of the lower semi-final tilt involving Dr. John O'Loughlin and Dr. Billy McElroy with Toots Davis and Jack Beatty, crack Stanton Heights outfit.

The O'Loughlin-Ellroy array breezed through to the semi-finals by virtue of bumping Snively and Dickson, 6-2, 6-1, and Kambach and Goodman, 6-2, 8-6, and by landing a third bracket default from Bill Snee and Steve Jacquith, West Elizabeth entries. In the early going, McElroy suffered from wildness occasioned by dearth of practice sessions, but he quickly eased into the swing of things and should prove a most potent factor in determining whether or not his agile partner shall add the doubles crown to the singles diadem he already wears.

Davis and Beatty were forced to the limit to account for Little Bill O'Loughlin and his spectacular young Shady Side Academy pal, Wally Arensberg, in a stirring third round fracas, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. O'Loughlin and Arensberg, too small to cover the net, the real strategic point in doubles, none the less unleashed such a fusillade of vicious drives and tantalizing lobs that it was not until set two was well under way that their older and vastly larger opponents were able to solve the dazzling back court attack of the prep school lads and fight through to hard-earned success. Billy and Wally had previously trimmed Harry McGuire and Bill Wozniack, rangy Homesteaders, 6-2, 6-2. Before meeting the Shady Side twain, McGuire and Wozniack tussled capably to score a cleanly merited verdict over Grant Siverd and the writer, Duke-P. A. A. coalition, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4.

HONUS' "DISCOVERER" DEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 28.—(AP.)—Claude W. McFarlan, 58, player for the New York Giants some 30 years ago, and known as the man who discovered Hans Wagner, died here yesterday.

NOTED STARS TO RACE AT BRIDGEVILLE TRACK

More than 20 entries have been received for the Independence Day automobile races at the famous Bridgeville Speedway, one of the best half-mile board tracks in the country, according to Henry Coslow, director and manager of the Bridgeville track.

SCHENLEY OVAL MEET ENTRY LIST CLOSES

The entry list closed last night for the track and field meet to be held at Schenley Oval at 9:30 o'clock next Wednesday morning as part of Pittsburgh's Independence Day celebration. The aquatic events will be staged at 1:30 o'clock at the park pool.

Practically all of the well-known track and field men and swimming and diving stars in Western Pennsylvania are entered.

Pittsburgh District Boxing Officials in Demand in Other Parts of State—Hollingsworth May Get Over His Wildness and Hurl Good Ball Without Warning.

MANY boxing fans of the Pittsburgh district who have booed and hooted the decisions of judges and referees at glove shows hereabouts, and who have openly expressed the opinion that the men, or a number of them, licensed to fill these positions are incompetent, ought to take due note of the fact that these very same officials are very much in demand in other parts of the state.

Some sections of Pennsylvania are requesting the assignment of Pittsburgh officials to their shows in preference to their home men.

Al Grayber.

COMMISSIONER HAVEY J. BOYLE has been asked by Johnstown promoters to assign a complete set—a referee and two judges—to the next show to be held in the Flood City. One local man served at a recent show in Johnstown, and last Tuesday night Al Grayber refereed and Jock Simco and Eddie Kennedy served as judges at Billy Jolley's show in New Castle.

Nor is that all, for Jock Simco, of McKeesport, who has been making a splendid record as a judge, was further honored by being sent to Philadelphia to act as one of the judges at last night's show, headed by Tony Canzoneri, featherweight title holder, and Harry Blitman in a non-championship battle.

IT WAS desired to have neutral judges for the Canzoneri-Blitman bout, and Commissioner Boyle selected Simco from among the officials of this section, while Commissioner Farrell chose the other from the Central part of the state.

It is only the second time that a Pittsburgh judge has been sent that far to handle a fight. The first instance was the assignment of Frank (Bull) Brown to be a judge of the world's heavyweight championship event in which Gene Tunney wrested the title from Jack Dempsey in Philadelphia on September 23, 1906.

James J. Corbett.

THAT skilled fighters have a better chance than knockout sluggers to come back after being out of the fight game for a long time is the belief of most Queensberry fans. The greatness of a whirlwind like Jack Dempsey, for example, is founded on the element of youth, it is reasoned, with its vast store of energy and remarkable recuperative powers. When that youth has gone there remains only the knockout punch, and even that has become practically worthless because departing youth has taken away the crashing aggressiveness that make it effective. But the boxer once great through extraordinary skill has a better chance to come back, because the departure of youth has not left him a fistic beggar.

THE skill retains the item that carried him to the top in the first place—boxing skill or science, it may take some of his strength, speed and stamina, but it cannot take away all of a clever fellow's knowledge of the fine points of boxing.

Jim Corbett is picked as the best example of this by one veteran ring man.

"Corbett, after a two years' layoff, made an astonishing comeback when nearing 34," he recalled. "He encountered the massive champion, young Jim Jeffries, and almost won.

"Corbett's skill made the young giant look ridiculous for 20 rounds. Had it been a 20-rounder, Corbett would have regained his title. But, tiring, youth was served in the twenty-third, when Corbett bumped into a swing that laid him out. Youth and nothing else won that fight, but the old campaigner with skill nearly triumphed. Corbett was two and a half rounds lacking in youth—that was all."

EXPLAINING his action in releasing Infielder Jimmy Cooney, Catcher Luke Urban and Pitcher John Henry Wertz to Buffalo in order to bring John Hollingsworth, the right-hander who failed with Pittsburgh and other clubs, back to the big leagues, Manager Rogers Hornsby of the Braves says you never can tell how a minor league pitcher will behave when he comes up to the majors, whether it is his first or his third time up.

John Hollingsworth.

But I have hope that Hollingsworth will show something, he said. You know, when a pitcher has plenty of stuff and a good curve ball, but is wild there is always a chance that he will find himself all of a sudden, after having worked that wildness out of his system in the minor leagues. Just recall that the great Vance, was a very wild and so-so pitcher with many minor league teams before he finally found himself.

APPARENTLY there is no longer any doubt that Eddie Mulligan of the Pirates has set an all-time

CHAMPIONS AND CONTENDERS

Two out-of-the-state tennis stars battled for the women's singles championship of Western Pennsylvania in the final round of the annual tournament on the Pittsburgh Golf Club courts, Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, of Alliance, O., defeating Miss Elizabeth La Barthe, of California, 6-0, 6-2, and two brothers clashed for the men's singles title, Dr. John O'Loughlin and Billy O'Loughlin, the former winning, 6-1, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3. John, representing the P. A. A., is the eldest of the three O'Loughlin court stars. Another brother, Dave, was the West Penn champion in 1925 and 1926. Billy is the baby member of the trio, being 19 and a student at Shady Side Academy.

ST. LOUIS, June 28.—Aside from the stubborn bugaboo of slab uncertainty, the Pirates today were in good shape to take on the league-leading Cardinals in the first game of a long series that begins at Sportsmen's Park this afternoon.

Donie Bush's athletes arrived in the city last night in time to enjoy a good night's sleep before crossing bats with the Redbirds. Donie has Carmen Hill and Remy Kremer ready for slab duty, although Hill

CADDIE CHAMP ENTERS SUN-TELE EVENT

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER.

Among those who have entered the Sun-Telegraph's first annual West Penn amateur junior golf tournament for the William Randolph Hearst trophy, which is to be played on the Schenley Park municipal links, Thursday, July 12, are a number of club caddie champions, and class leaders for age, who still retain their amateur status. An entrant who Andy Petrolia, caddiemaster at Schenley Park, is particularly proud of, and whom a number of boys are backing as their prime favorite, is Anthony Onorato, who is 16 years old and goes to the Greenfield school. He holds the title of 1927 caddie champion for the Schenley golf links.

Now Tony, as we are wont to call him, comes from a regular family of golfers—his brother, Chuck, is an assistant pro at Schenley, and he has several other brothers, older and younger, who are good when it comes to the Scotch game. No doubt but that Tony will make the test a stiff one for the other competitors—so boys, you'd better get in a lot of practice. You will want to be on the top of your game when July 12 comes rolling along.

The entry list is creeping toward the 300 mark. Almost 275 already have enlisted in either the Junior Class, for boys between 15 and 18, or the sub-junior class, for boys 14 and under. The only restrictions to be considered before entering are that only boys 18 years of age and under not attending a school of education above high schol grades and caddies who have not accepted money after their sixteenth birthday, are permitted to participate. The amateur definition of the United States Golf Association must be adhered to strictly. Play will be at 18 holes medal, and the prizes will be beautiful and numerous. Sign on entry blank and send it in. There is no fee. Following are some of the latest entrants:

George Chubb, Jr., 15, Allegheny Country Club, Sewickley, Pa. (Junior).

Raymond Chickos, 15, 1302 Halsey Place, Pittsburgh (Junior).

Larry Fritsch, 17, 138 Dewey street, West Etna, Pa. (Junior).

Decatur Bows To Bucs

DECATUR, Ill., June 28.—(AP.)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, champions of the National League, stopped off here yesterday en route from Chicago to St. Louis and defeated the Decatur Three-Eye League club, 3 to 2.

Lloyd Waner, with four hits, featured for the Pirates, while the locals could do little with Leo Haze, a California recruit. Gill's triple scoring Hickey, who had walked and Pickering's home run past L. Waner, accounted for the two Decatur runs. The visitors used their regular lineup. The score:

"MENACE" OUTGAMED BY SMALL FOE

By DAVID J. WALSH.
International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Johnny Risko, the man who won't take "no" for an answer, did us all a personal favor last night when he outmugged the all-black menace, George Godfrey, in 10 tedious rounds at Ebbets Field. He staked Godfrey to height, reach and 44½ pounds in weight—he gave away everything, in fact, excepting fighting heart, and, in this important essential, the black finished so far back that I was forced to stretch a point in even giving him second place.

Risko simply "bulled" a bigger and broader man out of the decision in the last three rounds. Rushing in headlong, he drove punch after punch to Godfrey's middle and all that worthy could

SHANNOPIN VICTOR

Shannopin Country Club golfers made a great comeback yesterday when they defeated the Highland Country Club, 102 to 79, in the last 18-hole round of the annual 36-hole Grogan cup competition. The victory came close to evening the play for the year, inasmuch as Highland won the first 18-hole match last May. Almost 150 members of the two clubs played.

In a special match between the pros of the two contesting clubs, Charley Manning, Shannopin pro, defeated Jack Oke, Highland pro, 5 and 4.

major league record for successful pinch-hitting by making clean hits in five straight trips to the plate as a pinch-hitter.

After all available records have been searched without a parallel for Mulligan's performance being found, the fact must be duly chronicled that the Pirate utility infielder has smashed all standing records.

Ott last year got on the bases five times in succession as a pinch-hitter for the Giants, but he received two bases on balls and made only three hits, whereas Mulligan has made four singles and a double and has yet to be stopped. Even Al Muro Elias couldn't find an equal to it, and that means there is none. The sad part of it is that Mulligan's hits as a pinch-batter did the Bucs no good, as the Bushmen lost every one of the five games in which he delivered.

MEMORIES of the good old days when the fastest basketball in the country was played right here in this region have been brought back to veteran fans by the appearance of one of the popular old stars on a visit to friends in Johnstown.

Eddie Mulligan.

He is Bill Keenan, former famous center for Johnstown and East Liverpool, in the old Central League.

Keenan, one of the greatest centers of all time, was at the point of death a year ago at his home in Philadelphia, just about the time that Joe Fogarty, for whom he had played in East Liverpool, was called to the Beyond. It was a long, uphill fight to health again, but Keenan made it through a determined struggle such as helped him win many a basketball game.

J. J. Freund, Jr., reports that Harry Hough, former South Side captain and Tamaqua star, is going to give a big dinner in Philadelphia soon to all of the old Central League stars still living.

THOUGH he is required to make his class limit of 175 pounds for his bout with Armand Emanuel in New York tonight, Tommy Loughran's light-heavyweight championship will not be at stake.

Probably it wouldn't make any difference if it were, as Loughran, though just as lacking in punch as Emanuel, has a big edge on the newcomer, who is too inexperienced and young to try to cope with champions.

Stallings Plans To Abandon Baseball

TORONTO, June 28.—(A.P.)—George Stallings, the famous miracle man of the Boston Braves, now manager of the Montreal International League team, plans to go into temporary if not permanent retirement at his home in Haddock, Ga.

He collapsed in a hotel here June 7 while the Royals were engaged in a series with Toronto. His illness was diagnosed as a heart attack and he has been confined to a hospital since that time. He expected to rejoin his team soon after the attack, but his physicians advised him to remain in a state of absolute quiet.

RICKARD ADMITS GIANT DEAL, STONEHAM DENIES IT

TEX SAYS SALE IS ALMOST CLOSED

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—Tex Rickard is about to complete a deal for the purchase of the New York Giants, he said here yesterday.

"I would not be surprised if the announcement of the deal would be made any day," he said. "My interests have been dickering with the Stoneham people for some time and are almost ready to close."

The promoter refused to divulge the money considerations in the negotiations for the National League team.

DEAL DENIED

NEW YORK, June 28.—(A.P.)—Tex Rickard might not be surprised at the announcement within a few days that his interests had bought the New York Giants, but Charles A. Stoneham, owner of the club, certainly would.

"Perhaps that would'nt surprise Tex," he said, as the Madison Square Garden promoter's statement that the deal probably would go through within a few days was read to him.

"I can tell you that I'd be mightily surprised. There have been absolutely no negotiations for the sale of the New York Giants."

LOTT BEATEN BY LACOSTE

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 28.—(A.P.)—Rene LaCoste, ace of the French Davis Cup forces, defeated George Lott, the young American star, in four sets in the Wimbledon championships here today. The scores were 6-1, 9-7, 6-8, 6-2.

Lott defeated LaCoste in straight sets at Southampton last year.

John Hennessey, singles mate of Lott, came through with a straight-set victory over G. R. Sherwell, of England, 6-4, 7-5, 6-2, but another American, the youthful Sidney Wood, of New York, fell before the French attack. He was eliminated by Pierre Landry, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 8-6.

PRINCETON GOLFERS RETAIN TEAM TITLE

RYE, N. Y., June 28.—Princeton golfers retained their intercollegiate team golf championship here yesterday, although Maurice McCarthy, Jr., of Georgetown, won the qualifying medal with a score of 147. Match play for the individual title begins today.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 28.—The defeat of Miss Maureen Orcutt, metropolitan champion, featured yesterday's play in the Buffalo Country Club's invitation tournament. Glenna Collett and Virginia Van Wie scored easy victories.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 28.—Johnny Goodman, defending champion, was eliminated yesterday in the trans-Mississippi golf tourney. Jimmy Manion, title favorite, triumphed decisively.

of Charleroi and Phil Scello of McKeesport, will be the principals in the 10-round main bout.

Considerable interest is attached to the six-round semi-final in which Jack Katkish, of Lawrenceville, will meet Johnny Carey, of Erie, in a battle that should be featured by heavy hitting. Both have good knockout records.

Chuck Semach and Ray Crawford, heavyweights, will box the second bout and Jimmy Belmont and Tiger Billy Nixon will hook up in the first bout at 8:30 o'clock.

All of the boxers on the bill will weigh in at Duquesne at 2 p. m.

Tommy Loughran's light-heavyweight title will not be at stake in his bout with Armand Emanuel, of California, in Madison Square Garden, New York tonight, although he will have had to risk it if his original opponent, Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, were in the ring with him. Slattery withdrew from the bout because of an injured hand.

Irish Chuck Fulks, of Carnegie, has been substituted for Andy Novak as the opponent of Red Hartley in one of the bouts on the Conneaut Lake Convention Club of Pittsburgh Lodge No. 11 of the Elks, to be held in the club auditorium, Seventh avenue and Duquesne Way, tomorrow night. Bill McKechnie is likely to make the Freebooters look at southpaw pitching in the opener, Bill Sherdel being ready for mound duty. Flint Rhem also is a possibility. The Pirates seem to realize that it is up to them to make a showing in the impending fights. Five battles are carded in the four succeeding afternoons, a bargain bill being the attraction for Sunday. The twin affair grew out of a postponement necessary in the opening series of the season.

do about it was to clutch the other in a series of "John Gilbert love scenes."

It was a terrible fight and Godfrey was mainly responsible. The bromide that it takes two to make a fight never was so thoroughly sustained.

LEFT HOOK WINS

The first two rounds were uneventful, but Godfrey easily won the third and fourth. He swung the white man around at will, meantime clubbing that cruel right to the kidneys and occasionally hooking a left up above. The body punches had John's knees drooling.

Risko, however, stepped briskly around the mammoth one in the fifth, shooting two rights to the rotunda that made Godfrey bend double. Thus encouraged, John began charging in with a left hook under Godfrey's guard and from that moment the fight was "in".

Godfrey had no defense against that punch. From then on he fought a defensive fight and a far from successful one, at that.

GODFREY OUTGAMED

For Risko, having bluffed Godfrey out of all fighting ideas, now was free of those right-hand counters to the body and showed his appreciation by swarming all over the Negro for the last five rounds, clipping his tilted head with left swings and invariably scoring with the same punch to the body.

That was about all there was to it. The man with the big body lost. The man with the big heart won.

SCRIBES O. K. VERDICT

NEW YORK, June 28.—(A.P.)—Al-Johnny Risko over George Godfrey at the end of their 10-round bout at Ebbets Field last night met with only lukewarm approval from 25,000 fans, several sports writers gave Risko a margin of five rounds, with four for Godfrey and one even. The Associated Press score sheet gave the Negro giant five rounds, with three for Risko and two even.

The match was one of the few financial successes of the rainy summer season of many postponements. Receipts were $51,684. This bout itself had been postponed last Wednesday night and again on Saturday night.

20,000 7-Day Workers Granted the 6-Day Week

—By B. C. FORBES—

PROGRESS! Twenty thousand men, who have been seven-day week slaves are to be emancipated—they are to enjoy one day's rest each week.

This heartening news is sent to readers of this column by California's Department of Industrial Relations. The men affected are oil workers.

HOW long will railway managers and certain other employers persist in working men seven days a week, and every week of the year, without the slightest provision for any regular respite or vacation whatsoever?

The 12-hour day was not one whit more inhuman than the seven-day week. If I had to choose between the two, I would sooner work long hours six days and have a full day off every week than work shorter hours but be compelled to work every week-day, every Sunday, every holiday from New Year's Day to New Year's eve.

The 12-hour day is now almost a thing of the past and the eight-hour day is steadily spreading. The change has brought no industrial or business ruination. We all know that America has enjoyed greater prosperity since the World War than it ever enjoyed before, and this has been accomplished under the eight-hour rather than the 12-hour day.

Clearly, the next move should be to do away completely with the 365-day work-year.

RAILWAY executives give as an excuse for adhering to the seven-day week the fact that trains have to be run every day. Newspapers have to be published every day, certain steel-making operations are conducted every day, oil drilling goes on seven days a week and in many other lines the activities also are continuous.

But that does not mean that the seven-day work-week prevails. Ways and means have been evolved to limit each man's work to six days.

Are the executives who operate our railroads less resourceful? "Where there's a will there's a way." Most of our railway heads are veterans who rose from the ranks, and when they contrast the working hours and conditions they experienced with those ruling today they feel that the employes now are well off.

Let us ask them, however, if their directors would be satisfied if they ran their passenger and freight trains on the schedules current 25 years ago, if their train-load showed no improvement, if they had been able to show no increase whatsoever in managerial efficiency?

The seven-day week may have been good enough 25 years ago. It is not good enough today. It is condemnable. It is indefensible.

WILL the authorities and employers in every state please read carefully this official communication received from California?

"A conference of oil operators was held in the State Building, San Francisco, Monday, June 18, 1928, under the auspices of the Department of Industrial Relations, presided over by Director Will J. French, to consider the introduction of the six-day week in place of the seven-day week. Responses favorable to the plan were received from the Standard Oil Company, Union Oil Company, General Petroleum Corporation, the Texas Company, Barnsdall Oil Company, Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company, and Charles A. Son & Company. Practically all of these companies announced that there would be no reduction in pay. The Associated Oil Company wrote that the question is under advisement. It is known that other oil companies have decided to work all their employes on the six-days a week basis.

"There was unanimity on the wisdom of the course, and not one word in opposition came from those present or from the letters sent in to the Department of Industrial Relations. Members of the Oil Workers' Union presented the view that one day's rest in seven would prove as beneficial for the industry as did the eight-hour day, and they expressed their appreciation and pledged co-operation in the change in operations.

"Gov. C. C Young and Director Fred G. Stevenot of the Department of Natural Resources sent word to the conference that they would be pleased to see the day's rest secured by the men employed in oil production. Approximately 20,000 men will be affected by the change."

NEWS AND VIEWS

Market Ignores High Money.

The stock market has apparently become impervious to "bad news" from the money market and again today ignored a rise in call rates to 7½ per cent. for renewals, the highest in several years. Toward the close the rate went back again to 7 per cent. Numerous stocks, among them some of the standard industrials and several specialties, advanced vigorously in the face of the higher money, and gains of from 2 to 5 points were chalked up by early afternoon. In other sections, however, some nervousness was evident, as prices showed a tendency to back down, the result, no doubt, of selling by interests who do not feel confident in an attitude of disregard of money conditions and who apparently feel that the present bullish aspect of the mail list is more or less artificial, sustained deliberately in anticipation of a huge investment demand after the first of July. Just how politics enters into the market picture is not exactly determinable at this time, but there were many in the Street who attributed the definite turn in prices Tuesday to some vague influence which has not yet taken full form in the traders' minds.

Sees Lower Money in Offing.

Commenting on the money situation, one of the New York brokerage houses says: "It is perfectly logical to deduct that there is a percentage of artificiality in present high rates for call money, especially when it is realized that there has been no decided strain on the reserves of the Federal Reserve system. Here we see the effect of wise supervision by the Federal Reserve authorities without recourse to legislation. Should the Federal Reserve authorities decide that no further danger of a speculative frenzy existed, it would follow that New York rates for money would take the natural trend evidenced in other financial centers. We expect to see such a development somewhat later and cannot believe that such development would be unattended by a reasonable amount of speculation. In other words, we look for a resumptions of active trading markets after the curtailment in Stock Exchange loans has proceeded far enough to justify a more liberal attitude by the lenders of money."

Brokers' Loans.

General expectations in the financial district are that brokers' loans will continue to come down in the next few weeks. The theory is held that even if stocks move forward there will be sufficient liquidation of outsiders who are waiting an opportunity to reduce long holdings to decrease the amount borrowed by brokers for the account of customers. Bankers have not changed their predictions that there will be a large decrease in loans necessary to put the credit situation again at a point where the subject will be considered favorable by the Federal Reserve authorities. The Street has been rather backward in offering estimates as to what the weekly loan report will show when it is issued after the close today.

Copper Exports Increase.

Exports of copper from the United States in May were 49,897 short tons, against 40,039 in April. Great Britain imported 15,922 tons, against 10,874 in April, American Bureau of Metal Statistics reports. Exports of lead were 8,154 tons, against 9,479 the month before, and zinc exports 2,148 tons, against 2,620 in April.

Delaware and Hudson.

May net operating income of the Delaware and Hudson rose to $1,147,931 from $868,462 a year ago, and for five months of 1928 to $2,311,394 from $1,925,819 in the same period of 1927.

Hupp Motor Prospects.

Hupp Motor Car Company is expected to show much larger earnings for the first half of 1928 than in the corresponding period of 1927, net profit being estimated around $4,000,000, or close to $4 a share, in contrast to $1,147,922 or $1.14 a share.

"LITTLE BREWING" MOVES UP ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

ROUND TABLE of BUSINESS

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

ANOTHER new product has been born in the Pittsburgh district. At Elwood City the Stronach Nail Company is steadily increasing production and is making good progress in the commercial development of its non-splitting nail. The Stronach nail is much like an ordinary wire nail except that it has a blunt triangular point instead of the usual diamond shaped point. The ordinary nail spreads the grain of the wood apart, frequently causing splitting. The Stronach nail cuts a hole only slightly smaller than the shaft of the nail so that splitting is unlikely.

OVER 60% of the available timber supply consists of wood easily split. The use of the Stronach nail will permit the safe substitution of less expensive woods for many purposes. It will reduce the losses from spoiling wood and the waste of labor resulting from splitting. Tests have shown that the holding of the new nail is 36% greater than that of the old nails.

STRONACH nails are sold for prices averaging $1.25 a keg more than ordinary nails, but satisfactory sales results are being obtained. Lumber interests are vitally interested in the new nail since it promises to broaden the market for many kinds of timber. Harry S. Stronach, the inventor, was for many years the manager of the Industrial Department of the West Coast Lumber Trade Extension Bureau.

MACHINERY for het production of practically all sizes of nails has been perfected. About 50 nail machines have been set up at the plant. Ultimately 100 machines will be placed in operation. Some time will be required for the completion of development work, but E. S. Eggers of the Union National Bank, who is president of the Stronach Nail Company, estimates that the enterprise will start to show profits by this time next year.

FINANCING has been practically completed. The company has no bonded debt. It will have outstanding $275,000 of 7% preferred stock of $100 par value. 25,000 shares of no par participating stock and 20,000 shares of common stock. Some of the participating stock remains to be sold. A bonus of one share of common is given with each 10 shares of preferred. The participating stock is entitled to cumulative dividends of $2 a share annually and in addition it shares equally with the common stock in any additional dividends to an amount not exceeding $2 more a share annually. Application will be made to list the participating stock on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange.

THE company has the exclusive license for the production of Stronach nails. When the installation of machinery is completed it will have a production of 400,000 kegs of nails. Equipment for drawing wire to supply the nail machines is in place at the plant.

THE Westinghouse Air Brake Company is feeling the effect of the continued lack of equipment buying by the railroads. Net profit for the quarter ending June 30 will be less than in the corresponding quarter of 1927, when $2,444,434 or 77 cents a share was reported. In the first quarter of this year net profit was $1,447,968 or 45 cents a share. In addition to the loss of air brake sales the buying of signal equipment from the Union Switch & Signal Company, a subsidiary, has been light.

IN analyzing Westinghouse Air Brake's position too much emphasis should not be laid on any brief slump in sales. It is one of the strongest organizations from a financial standpoint in the country. It has no bonds and no preferred stock. Its physical properties are carried at only $16,290,350, which is a very conservative appraisal. On December 31 its current assets were over eight times its current liabilities. Cash alone of $8,330,736 was greater than current liabilities of $5,159,117.

IN addition to its older and better known lines of business Westinghouse Air Brake has several new lines which may be expected to contribute substantially to future earnings. Sales of automotive air brakes have increased greatly in recent years. A new type of vacuum brake has been developed for passenger automobiles. The installation of automatic train control will add to the future business of Union Switch & Signal. The foreign associated companies which were left in an unsatisfactory condition after the war are now on a profitable basis. The French company has a large order for equipping the national railways and the Belgian company has a similar contract.

NO. 394.

AN ORDINANCE—Granting unto the Pittsburgh Railways Company, its successors, lessees and assigns, the right to enter upon, use and occupy Grandview Avenue, Republic Street, Greenleaf Street, Fingal Street and Rutledge Street in the City of Pittsburgh, between the points herein set forth for street railway purposes, subject to the terms and conditions herein provided.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the Pittsburgh Railways Company, its successors, lessees and assigns, shall have the right and they are hereby authorized to enter upon, use and occupy for street railway purposes the streets and highways, in, on and along the following route:

BEGINNING at the present terminus of street railway track on Grandview Avenue, near Oneida Street; thence westwardly by single track along Grandview Avenue 1762 feet to a point east of Republic Street; thence curving southwestwardly 76 feet to and onto Republic Street; thence southwardly by single track along Republic Street 754.5 feet to a point north of Greenleaf Street; thence curving southwestwardly to and onto Greenleaf Street 89 feet; thence westwardly along Greenleaf Street 132.6 feet to a point east of Fingal Street; thence curving northwestwardly to and onto Fingal Street 93 feet; thence northwardly along Fingal Street by single track 77 feet; thence continuing northwardly along Fingal Street by double track 330 feet; thence continuing northwardly along Fingal Street by single track 77 feet to a point south of Rutledge Street; thence curving northeastwardly to and onto Rutledge Street 93 feet; thence eastwardly along Rutledge Street by single track 384.8 feet to point near Republic Street; thence curving northeastwardly 94 feet to a point of connection with the track hereinbefore described to be constructed on Republic Street north of Rutledge Street.

SECTION 2. The Pittsburgh Railways Company, its successors, lessees and assigns, shall have the right and they are hereby authorized to construct, maintain, operate and use street railway track on the route hereinbefore mentioned, together with the necessary turnouts and connections, and to operate cars thereon, and to use electricity as a motive power, and to erect, maintain and use in the streets and highways hereinbefore mentioned such posts, poles and other supports as said Company may deem convenient for the support and maintenance of an overhead system, and for the operation of street railways, subject, however, to the provisions of an ordinance approved February 25, 1890, entitled "A general ordinance relating to the entry upon, over or under, or the use or occupation of any street, lane or alley or any part thereof, for any purpose, by passenger or street railway companies, or by companies operating passenger or street railways, and providing reasonable regulations pertaining thereto for the public convenience and safety."

SECTION 3. The Company shall furnish clean, sanitary and well lighted cars, properly heated and ventilated, and shall provide sufficient cars to furnish reasonable service to accommodate the traffic.

SECTION 4. The Pittsburgh Railways Company may assign any of the rights hereinbefore granted to such of the underlying companies operated or to be operated by it as it deems proper, subject to the consent of Council of the City of Pittsburgh, and subject also to the acceptance by said underlying companies of all the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 5. The term of this grant shall be for the period of Fifty (50) years from the date of acceptance hereof.

SECTION 6. This ordinance shall be accepted by the Pittsburgh Railways Company within Sixty (60) days after its passage or approval, by a Certificate of Acceptance of all the conditions and provisions thereof. The said certificate to be executed under the corporate seal of the Company, duly attested by the President or Vice President, and the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary thereof, and filed with the Controller of the City.

SECTION 7. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

Passed in Council June 20, 1928.
Approved June 23, 1928.
CHARLES H. KLINE, Mayor.
Recorded in O. B. Vol 40, page 201.

Specifications, Form of Contract, Instructions to Bidders, Proposal and Blue Print Copies of Letting Plans may be viewed at the office of the Commissioners of Allegheny County.

Copies of the above data for use of bidders will be furnished upon application to the Contract Clerk in the Department of Public Works of Allegheny County, Room 104, 519 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Deposits in the amount of $5.00 each will be required for each set of blue print copies of the letting plans and specifications. Receipts for said deposits will be given and the money refunded upon return of the plans and specifications in good condition and without marking within 10 days of the date bids are opened.

Proposals must be accompanied by a certified check for the amount fixed in the "Instructions to Bidders" as evidence that the bidder will accept and carry out the conditions of the contract in case of award.

The County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

ROBERT C. WOODSIDE, County Controller, Allegheny County.

PETTING PATTY — Mystery

I THINK THE YOUNG SCAMP SHOULD HAVE A CLUE TO HER WHEREABOUTS — I SUGGEST THAT AN UNSIGNED TYPE-WRITTEN NOTE BE SENT HIM WITH A HINT IN IT OF WHERE SHE CAN BE FOUND!
RIGHTO!
WHAT'S THIS?! ARE THESE CONSPIRATORS TRYING TO TRAP TEDDY TOOTLE, TOO? — THERE'S SOMETHING SILLY ADO!! 6-28
THIS NOTE SAYS — "LOOK FOR BLACK AT THE END OF THE WORLD AND YOU'LL FIND PATTY!" — THAT SOUNDS LIKE LAND'S-END!
LET'S GO!
—WHILE AT "BLACK HOUSE"—
I WONDER WHEN THEY ARE GOING TO START BEING MEAN TO ME — THIS IS THE MOST SERENE KID-NAPING I EVER HEARD OF! I WONDER IF MY MAID KNOWS WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT MEEDA, DO YOU KNOW WHY I AM BEING HELD PRISONER AT BLACK HOUSE?
I KNOW NOSSING, MEES PENNINGTON, EXCEPT-WHAT DOES THE MAID KNOW?

THE BUNGLE FAMILY — Gustav, Listen!

THE FEUD DEVELOPING BETWEEN CLAIMANTS AND THE HEIR TO THE BROWN MILLIONS, BROUGHT OUT IN GUSTAVE BROWN TODAY AS HE TALKED WITH HIS ATTORNEY, SOME OF THE QUALITIES THAT NEIGHBORS FEARED IN THE MISSING GEORGE BUNGLE.
I'M NOT SURPRISED TO HEAR THAT YOU'VE RECEIVED THREATS BY MAIL AND OVER THE PHONE, GUSTAVE. AND I CAN, IN A MANNER, UNDERSTAND WHY YOU WERE ASSAULTED ON THE STREET TOO. THE BROWNS ARE VERY HOT TEMPERED WELL, I'VE GOT A HOTTISH TEMPER TOO. I WAS JUST GETTING READY TO GIVE EVERY DESERVING BROWN A SHOT AT THE ESTATE, WILL OR NO WILL, BUT NOW ALL THEY'LL GET IS WHAT THEY CAN TAKE AWAY FROM ME AND BROTHER THAT WILL BE EXACTLY TWO TIMES ZERO.
ALL I NEED TO PROTECT MYSELF FROM THOSE BABIES IS A LARGE WAGON SPOKE. AFTER I KNOCK THE EARS OFF A FEW OF THOSE TOUGH BROWNS-
MY DEAR GUSTAVE, I'M AFRAID OF JUST THAT I HAVE TALKED WITH THE BROWNS' ATTORNEYS THIS MORNING. AH, WOULD YOU CONSIDER LEAVING TOWN FOR A FEW DAYS AND—
AND GIVE THOSE PEOPLE THE IDEA THAT THEY RAN ME OUT OF THIS TOWN? MY ANSWER IS ABSOLUTELY-
GUSTAVE, BE SENSIBLE, REASONABLE. FOR MY SAKE. FOR YOUR OWN SAKE! GIVE THOSE BROWNS A CHANCE TO COOL DOWN SO I CAN ARRANGE.....NO DON'T SHAKE YOUR HEAD! DO IT AS A FAVOR TO ME. PLEASE.

ELLA CINDERS — Loser and Finder

Ella's giving Mr. Cummings her personal husband-test—to try his honesty, she left some money where he could find it—
HELLO! WHAT'S THIS? EITHER SOMEONE HAS LOST MONEY, OR IT'S AN ANONYMOUS DONATION!
HE FOUND IT! I SAW HIM! WILL HE KEEP IT— OR DO I HAVE TO LOOK FURTHER FOR A HUSBAND?
BY A STRANGE COINCIDENCE, THIS IS EXACTLY THE AMOUNT THAT RASCALLY BILL-COLLECTOR DUNNED ME FOR THIS MORNING! HMMM!
THEY SAY THE WOMAN PAYS AND IF HE DOESN'T RETURN THAT MONEY, I PAY DOUBLE! FINDERS KEEPERS, LOSERS WEEPERS, AND I'LL WEEP PLENTY IF HE'S A KEEPER!

Work to Begin Promptly On Loan Improvements

It is gratifying to learn that work on improvements authorized in the people's bond issue is to begin promptly. It is to begin on a number of projects, just as soon as the vote is certified and bonds are sold, Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong asserts.

Operations cannot begin too soon to suit the public, which needs the improvements, nor the men of the district who may be in need of work. Construction of large buildings in Pittsburgh has been much above the normal rate and it is well to know that there is something else in sight to keep the level of employment up.

We have voted to go to work on a larger scale, so let's be about as soon as may be.

Shooting Off Fireworks Is Signal for Arrest

The annual fireworks flareup is on. Police have been ordered to arrest all violating the city ordinance preventing the use of pyrotechnics, and it is officially stated they will proceed to enforce the law—for the good of actual and potential lawbreakers in this respect.

Pittsburgh has been endeavoring to make Independence Day sane and safe and it must be said that much headway has been made. Recent Fourths have not been nearly as much a menace to life and property as former ones were. In fact, some of them have been fairly quiet.

This year, however, Council is alarmed because of the increase of permits issued to dealers to sell fireworks and because some dealers are alleged to be selling without permits. Last year 22 permits were issued and this year 58 have been granted.

Ostensibly sales made by these dealers are for use outside the city limits, but we assume that anybody is privileged to buy. If they attempt to use them in the city, it is up to the police to stop them and then they are abused for "picking on the kids." Of course, as a matter of fact, they are protecting the children and others, but there are thousands who do not realize that.

Who Are the 12 Great?

True Greatness Rarely Recognized.

An intelligent committee has selected "the twelve greatest living persons," and five of the twelve could not possibly be included in such a list. The twelve chosen are Edison, Mussolini, Einstein, Marconi, Bernard Shaw, Henry Ford, Madame Curie, Clemenceau, Jane Addams, Paderewski, Orville Wright and Kipling.

Which would you leave out, what names would you put in place of those rejected? Probably nobody could select the greatest, for they are usually unknown until their work has long been done.

Leonardo, one of the greatest minds in five centuries, does not mention Columbus, so far as known to this writer, although Columbus went to America and returned, while Leonardo was studying "everything important" on earth.

Earth's greatest living man is unknown, undoubtedly. If known, and his ideas discussed, he would probably be laughed at. It is well to remember that.

The Old Dinosaurs

And How They Vanished.

It was said here "Nobody knows how or why the giant dinosaurs were wiped out." A learned contradicting reader says "EVERYBODY knows the dinosaurs were killed by the extreme cold of the Ice Age."

The super-learned Barnum Brown, Curator of Fossil Reptiles in the American Museum of Natural History, says the Ice Age had nothing to do with it, in view of the fact that "the dinosaurs had disappeared millions of years before the advent of the Ice Age.

Many of us forget how old this earth really is.

Information, supplied by courtesy of Henry Fairfield Osborn, Curator-in-Chief, says further:

"You were correct in stating that no one knew why the dinosaurs became extinct, but we have the greatest assurance that their disappearance was due chiefly to the draining of marshes and lagoons around which they lived, through the elevation of land masses and consequently the disappearance of particular types of plants on which the herbivorous dinosaurs fed. Very naturally when the herbivorous dinosaurs died, the carnivorous types passed away with them."

This is interesting, because we have dinosaurs in OUR day, financial dinosaurs, which occasionally step on the little creatures around them. Those modern dinosaurs, like the old ones, will pass away in time, and it is well to know how such things happen. "An upheaval" will dislodge them also.

Wise Britain

She Keeps Her Britishers.

Mussolini, in an eloquent, important speech, expresses friendship for all nations. He says that Italians naturalized abroad are foreigners as far as Italy is concerned.

Great Britain, old and wise, says "once a Britisher always a Britisher." A Britisher can come to America, become naturalized, then go back or he can go to the Fiji Islands and marry a cannibal girl and adopt her ways, then go back and run for Parliament.

That enables Britishers to do business on the most profitable basis wherever the flag flies and keep their standing at home. Wise old Britain, her sons can adopt any nationality for business reasons and remain British.

SUN-TELEGRAPH'S PLATFORM

For Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania

2—Settlement of coal strike.
3—Rapid transit.
4—Repeal or modification of "blue law."
5—Establishment of Pittsburgh metropolitan district.
6—Community Fund for charities.
7—Town Hall, seating at least 15,000.
8—Voting machines to insure honest elections.
9—Development of river transportation.

GOING UP!

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

THE Earl of Sandwich started something when he [illegible] the delectable bit that bears his name. More than 250,000 sandwiches are devoured by hurrying New Yorkers every 25 hours, and eight factories are running full blast to supply the demand.

A few years ago there were only a half dozen varieties of sandwich. Now they have more than 300 names. A man or woman has scarcely attained celebrity unless a sandwich bears his or her name. There is the Eddie Canter, the Paderewski, the Gene Tunney, the Marilyn Miller, and so on.

They range in price from the slim little ten centers in glassine wrappers to the dollar pyramided creations with fluted edges and fancy French names. The bulk of the supply is sold over the drug store soda counters, but the town is dotted with sandwich bars and sandwich salons de luxe.

Some present an outside electrical display that almost dims gaudy theatrical signs. Canopies over their portals stretch to the curb and uniformed doormen are there to pay deference to the carriage trade. Out of the sudden welter of prosperity has come a new type of Broadway spender.

He is known as a "sandwich millionaire" and is a first night theater patron in correct evening dress, a welcome guest at the supper club's ringside, takes a flyer as an "angel" in a theatrical venture and several have their country estates.

There are expertly trained sandwich makers who are paid $50 a week and sandwich wrappers who receive $35 a week. The factories have their salesmen who scatter money about in the manner of the old time wine agent. There are also electrical machines to turn out the product.

The king of the sandwich makers is A. Reuben, who caters to the White Way in an expansive establishment on upper Broadway and to a bon ton clientele on Madison avenue. His shops herald the triumphant slogan: "From a Sandwich to an Institution."

Not all high-priced haberdashery is sold on the avenue. The most expensive shirts and scarves in town may be purchased a few steps off the Bowery. The Bowery has many residents who like fine things and will pay for them. Since prohibition the taste for rare finery has expanded among bootleggers and gangsters. There are a number of shop-keepers on the Bowery who live on Riverside Drive and other more aristocratic thoroughfares.

* * *

One of the best dressed gentlemen noted since Michael Arlen skipped these shores was idling in a theater lobby recently. He seemed to have attained sartorial perfection from patent leather shoes to glistening silk hat. Cholly Knickerbocker, the society spy who knows everybody, could not place him, but the head usher was authority for information he was the leader of a well-known West Side gang, with three notches on his gun. Still from what I know about ushers they might fib a little.

The only gangster with whom I was ever on speaking terms was Big Jack Zelig, who died as he lived by the gun—shot down from behind while reading a newspaper on a Fourteenth street street car. I had gone as a reporter to see him several weeks before he was pistoled. He did not conform to the beetle-browed, scar-faced type of the headlines. He seemed more an overexhuberant boy having a lot of fun out of life. In a small town he would have been classed as a "barber shop sport."

* * *

Indeed many East Side gunmen are recruited from the barber shop and poolroom loafers. They are usually harmless until some one gives them a sniff of cocaine and then they take up murder and make it hum.

* * *

I wish those fellows who roam about town with surveying rods would quit picking on me. I always seem to get in their line of vision when they are waving to their assistant. Being a polite boy, I wave back—and then, discovering the mistake, feel silly. People might get a wrong impression, seeing me wave at strange men.

(Copyright, 1928, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

History

"After a recent discussion we have decided to refer to you the following questions:

"How long ago was the Stone Age, in estimated facts? Was the Babylon civilization before the Egyptian?—Joseph E. Eichel, Cleveland, O."

THESE questions perhaps do not admit of perfectly definite answers. To begin with, even within the historic period systems of chronology are not sufficiently certain or accordant to enable us to make absolutely trustworthy comparisons; records or monuments are lacking or imperfect, and legends and traditions are seriously affected by racial and national rivalries and jealousies and rendered untrustworthy by the exaggerations of the prevailing imaginative and poetic treatment of such subjects—a fault that is not absent from the modern mind.

Taking your question in the reverse order, i. e., putting the historic, or semi-historic, first, we find that early forms of civilization probably began almost simultaneously in the valley of the Nile in Africa, and that of the Euphrates and the Tigris in the adjacent part of Asia. The Egyptian civilization seems to have been first in attaining a great and consistent form and development, and most historians ascribe to it the primacy in this respect, though it may have been preceded by less widespread and enduring cultures at different points in Asia Minor.

In the days of Sargon, Semiramis, Nebuchanezzar, etc., Babylon, as the capital of the country called Challea, had reached a height of splendor that deeply impressed the imagination of the world of that time, and that endured until Alexander conquered the famous city and died in it, in the fourth century before Christ. But, meanwhile, Egypt had developed a civilization on the Nile still more splendid, more varied, more lasting, and more influential over the rest of the world, particularly over the early peoples who later left Greece as their final contribution to the advance of humanity. Upon the whole, I think we may say that Egypt stands at the "gates of the morning" in human history, taking precedence by virtue of the relative continuity of her development though it, too, was subject to many interruptions and variations.

Turning, then, to pre-historic times, which dip down a little way into the gulf of geological times, we may remark that there are two "stone ages" that have been discriminated—the "Old Stone Age" and the "New Stone Age." They get their common name from the fact that the people who dwelt upon the earth in those days made their simple weapons and utensils mostly of flint or other hard, maniable stone. The older of these ages probably began in the course of the glacial periods, of which there were several in succession, with intervening warm eras, extending back for hundreds of thousands of years.

All attempts to express these periods in years are only more or less probable guesses. The geologist's way is to refer them to their place in the order of succession of the eras of the last great geological age—the Quarternary.

The latter stone age, however, is more nearly within the reach of a consistent chronology. It represents a time when the earlier savage types of humanity had advanced to what may be called incipient civilization. Their tools, weapons, etc., now showed a great advance in skill and in the application of thought and foresight. Among them a by no means contemptible degree of art had been developed, as shown by their paintings on cavern walls and their carvings in ivory, bone and horn. They may have lived from 30,000 to 10,000 years ago. They must have known the succession of the years from the return of the seasons, but probably they had no conception of history and no thought of satisfying and curiosity of remote posterity about them.

Dirt and the Baby

WHEN a baby begins to creep around, it is animated by exactly the same spirit that took Lindbergh to Paris and led Edison to the discovery of the many possible services of electricity. It wants to find out what is in the world for it to do. And to prevent a baby from creeping is to stunt the next to the most primitive instinct in the world, after hunger.

Pittsburgh is often called dirty. But it is a healthy city for babies. This is partly because good mothers keep the dirt and the baby apart, and Pittsburgh is full of good mothers.

Your Vacation Plans

YOU are about to take your vacation.

Have you planned your trip?

Are you going with the crowd or are you going to seek rest?

Have you worked so hard all the past year that you need recreation?

Have you been cooped up all winter so that you feel a sort of stagnation? Do you want to learn something new and useful to think about in the long hours when you must be a stay-at-home again?

There is much to be considered when you plan your summer vacation.

Your trip need not be expensive to bring you health and happiness.

But it should be a complete change, if possible.

A change is a rest, so your vacation need not mean indolence.

Sometimes another form of work, if it takes you out of doors, would do you as much good as lolling around a seaside hotel.

One of the disappointing things about certain resorts one hears of much in the newspapers is the time that is spent in changes of outfit, in parading up and down, in trying to impress the other guest, when if the guest were not very commonplace there would not be the desire to be unnatural.

Can you go away from home for two weeks and be natural? Then you're lucky.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELS

Someone's Thought

IF someone holds a thought of you,
A sweet and tender thought
That paints you gracious, good and true,
All things which you have sought,
One knows not how the deed is done,
The miracle is wrought,
But fine traits flower, one by one,
To match with someone's thought.

If someone has great faith in you,
In goals you can attain,
If someone's joyous hopes pursue
Your way and never wane,
Then strangely, surely you will find
In all you say and do
You keep that someone's faith in mind
And make those hopes come true.

Flier whose ambition is to be "the world's oldest living aviator" is in no hurry to become an aviator in the next world.

Cornell students accused of indulging in too much "wine, women and song" are willing to quit singing if they can major in the other subjects.

Soda clerk who got five days in jail for stealing a kiss might have fared better had he confined his osculatory peculations to his cash register.

Tales that are Told

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

A FARMER by the name of Hawkins, maybe it was struck oil out in Kansas, and he started off on a trip to Europe. The ship wasn't so very big, and the third day out it ran into a terrible storm. She rolled and pitched and finally her rudder was carried away, and the storm only got worse. One of the funnels was blown off, and six ports was stove in and all the gear was washed off the deck. The bridge was hanging by a thread and the old tub was shipping tons of water when the captain decided, in the middle of the night to call for help. The wireless had been washed away, but the crew managed to rig up a place to send up rockets from. It was just about midnight when the first two rockets went up, and the Kansas guy was a little bit uneasy in his digestion. He had been staying in his bed the whole way from New York, and hadn't any idea that this was about the last of the old ship.

The Kansan come up to the captain and says, "I reckon you don't care nuthing for my opinion, Cap, but I'm awful sick, and besides, with the wind like it is, this ain't no time to be shooting off fireworks!"

A Phenomenon

FREDERICK A. WALLIS, New York's Commissioner of Corrections, has many ideas about his work, one being that prisons and corrective institutions should build up their inmates' self-respect by making them self-supporting.

Mr. Wallis, at a luncheon in New York, was talking to a woman about a certain reformatory.

"A queer thing happened to a young fellow back in 1901 in that reformatory," he said.

"Yes?" said the woman. "What was it?"

"He reformed."

The Limit

A SMALL girl visitor made friends with the young son of the house, and the two were keen to go into the garden, make a fire, and cook their own lunch.

They were given a frying pan and some sausages, and out they went.

After a while the boy returned and said to his mother: "Look here, mother, I can't stand Pauline. First she drops the sausages on the ground and I tell her I'm not jolly well going to eat dirty sausages, and now she's in the bathroom washing them with soap and water!"

Gratitude

A MISERLY landlord was collecting rents in a poor locality. At one of the houses he was watched by a small boy.

The landlord started to search his pockets, saying, "I must see what I can find for you."

After a while he brought a peppermint from a remote corner. As he handed it to the youngster he said, "And now, what will you do with that?"

The boy looked at it, then at the landlord, and replied with cutting severity, "Wash it!"

The Bachelor's Lament

"WHY didn't you marry, Tom?" the young man asked the old bachelor.

"Well, you see," replied the single one, "when I was quite young I resolved that I wouldn't marry until I found an ideal woman. I was difficult to please; but after many years I found her."

"Lucky beggar! And then—"

"She was looking for the ideal man," replied the bachelor, sadly.

Isn't It So?

The proof of the pudding is in knowing when you have enough.

Familiarity breeds contempt. The better we know some people the more we wonder why we know them.

You can always flatter a man by asking his advice. Of course, you can use your own judgment about acting upon it.

The Value of Death

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

Why death?

Why can't people go along living all the time?

Why must everybody possess the certainty of giving up the ghost sooner or later?

There must be some reason for this eternal tragedy that stands in the background of every one of us.

Whoever made this universe and this race of men and women would not have created them with the fact of death hanging over them had there not been some good reason for it.

I am not in the secrets of the All Wise and don't pretend to know more than other people, but I have a sort of hunch that death is valuable because of the viewpoint it brings to life.

If a man always felt well, never was sick, he would get too cocky. There would be no curbing his egotism. The vanity of humankind is wonderful and death exists as a certain cure.

A woman sent me a letter. It was a leter written by a mother, just a few days before she died, to her daughter. This letter was found in an old trunk. A part of the letter reads as follows:

"My Heart's Beloved:

"As I start on this journey I am faced with the obsession that I have not always been a good mother to you. From my own trials, disappointments and experiences, I have shadowed your life and colored your impressions, and in a great measure destroyed your ideals. You saw all my little weaknesses and railings, deceits and untruthfulness and, of course, that was bound to influence your character. But won't you let me atone for that by your reshaping your life to better efforts? Cast out doubt. Love—the love that sees only good in everything, is all that makes life sweet."

There was more to the letter and much in the same strain.

This letter is valuable as it shows us how different things look to us when we come to die.

If we all knew we were to die tonight there are a lot of things we wouldn't do and there are a lot of things that are worth while that we should do.

Perhaps we get our truest view of those things which are worth while in life when we look at them from the standpoint of death. So that the fact of death constantly in the world tends to ennoble life and any career of unlimited prosperity and health would tend to discredit it.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

WOMEN are the resourceful sex. An American gentleman visited Lord Northcliff in England a few years ago. At breakfast strawberries were served with the little green stems on them, and piled around a tiny mound of powdered sugar.

The American hadn't had them that way before. He took one look. He saw a pitcher of nice rich cream near at hand. He wanted cream with his strawberries and that was that. He poured it over the berries, stems, sugar and all. It was not strawberries, but strawberries and cream that he wanted.

And didn't he have a nice time, fishing out the berries by their gooey stems!

But he had cream on his berries. And that's the real American way of looking at the situation.

A woman would have watched the others and no matter how much she had wanted cream, she would have wanted more, to be exactly correct.

Men are less resourceful, but they are so much more honest with themselves and others.

Hon. P. C. Sanders of Mineral Wells, Tex., a legislator, told the Houston convention that what was a most important issue of this year was getting the women folks to wear petticoats. Seriously he wanted a plank on the subject.

One time you hear the politicians are having too much petticoat rule, and then the next minute they are for petticoats, heart and soul!

If the Democratic women all wear petticoats—well, you will find a lot of Democrats going Republican, that's all.

A Brooklyn man fainted in court when given three months in jail for beating his wife.

Bully!

The first 16 months of a baby's life are the loudest, if not the funniest.

How Mae Murray kept her's so quiet during that first 16 months would make good reading.

A Canadian woman who has failed innumerable times to get into this country tried to swim the Niagara River. She fell down on the bank and 12 hours later was taken to a hospital. She fell on the Canadian side.

She should try the new way of getting in. Go to sleep repeating to her subconscious mind: "I will get into the United States, I will get into the United States, I will get into the United States, and none will stop me!"

She might not get in, but the psycos say she would.

Frankness

THE fact is disclosed that something like two million copies of campaign speeches were "franked" by congressmen during the recent presidential primaries.

Inasmuch as that is what the franking privilege is for, we can see no especial reason for surprise.

The typical franked speech is not precisely our ideal of the most fascinating literature. But so long as there are citizens who find instruction in them, they will doubtless continue.

And the fact that they continue is proof presumptive that they are valued—if only by their makers.
